

Italy Will Get Hardest
Air Pasting
Says Scribe

By JOHN F. CHESTER
Boston, June 25 (AP)—A prediction that American and British airmen will give Italy "a hammering such as no country has ever received before" came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, after a tour of war coverage unparalleled in the middle eastern and North African theatres.

Kennedy, sun-tanned, lean and hardened, is the only newspaperman who covered the middle eastern and North African wars from the time the first shot was fired by Italy in 1940 until the last German surrender after Tunis and Bizerte fell. He gave his views after returning on his first vacation since before the war.

Ideal Conditions
"Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said. "The skies are so blue, with few clouds and no fog, that the amazing American bombsight is operating with uncanny accuracy. Distances are short, enemy resistance is light and Allied casualties are comparatively few. The United States Air Forces already have done a job of bombing that has been unequalled in this war."

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front. It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the Axis' Achilles heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2,500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the Axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

Here are some of the thoughts of a war correspondent as he retraced a blood-stained route from Spain to the Balkans and the middle east in an interview here:

Had Best Gun
"It was in Spain that I first saw the German 88 mm. gun. The Nazis used the Spanish war as a testing ground for this weapon, improving it markedly. And up until nine months ago it was the best gun in Africa."

"The German 88 mm. was the main reason behind all of the British reverses in Africa. It could out-range the British guns, and they made the error of trying to throw tank against tank—a sort of 'charge of the Light brigade'—while the Germans smashed them from distances they couldn't reach."

"The American 90 mm. and 155 mm. guns changed all this. It was the 155's which pounded Matruh to pieces from 10 or 12 miles away, and really opened the gateway for the final American drive."

Horrible Campaign
"The campaign in Greece was a horrible and touching experience. One of the worst days was an Easter Sunday near a tiny village on the river Lethe. The villagers were cooking their Easter lamb. Then the bombers came—150 of them by twos and threes, steadily for an hour and a half until there was little or nothing left."

"After returning to Egypt and moving back and forth across the desert, the turn of the war finally came at Alamein. General Montgomery had just taken over. He captured the imagination of the British troops. He told them that Egypt would be defended inch by inch, over their dead bodies, if necessary. He forbade any man to surrender while he still had a single piece of ammunition. The men liked that."

"The British by then had learned all of the German tricks. They had achieved the coordination of the Afrika Korps. Man for man they were more courageous and better fighters than the Germans. And above all they had learned to rely on guns rather than tanks alone."

SEEK CADETS FOR AIR CORPS

A drive to recruit cadets for the Army Air Corps will be launched in Biglerville Monday evening at seven o'clock.

Lieutenant F. H. Wilcox, of the 55th College Training Detachment, will address this year's male graduates of Biglerville in the high school auditorium. The meeting is also open to the incoming seniors. The College Training program of the Air Corps and its opportunities for young men to receive some college education will be described.

Young men who have reached their 17th birthday may join the Army Air Corps by enlisting in the Enlisted Reserve. They will not be called into service until they have reached their 18th birthday and then may decide within six months after they wish to enter the service.

They will be assigned to a college where they will receive their academic instruction and preliminary flight training after which they will be assigned to an advanced base for further instructions and training before being commissioned.

The maximum age limit is 27 years and six months.

NEED FACTORY, STORE HELP FOR CROP HARVESTS, GROWERS STATE

Leading upper Adams county fruit growers and packers today were considering the possibility of asking Gettysburg merchants and factory owners to close up shop several half days or whole days a week in order to release badly needed man and womanpower to harvest the county's victory crops.

While no formal action has been taken so far by the canners and growers a representative number queried by The Gettysburg Times as to possible solutions for the manpower shortage said their opinion was that only by closing stores and non-essential industries for periods during the summer could enough pickers and canners be secured to save the crops.

All expressed the fear that attempts to enlist all non-working individuals, obtain vacation help from nearby cities and the like would prove ineffectual in that not enough labor could be obtained.

Might Discourage Production
"A number of other cities have closed stores and shops for several days each week during the harvesting season in order to save the crops," one canner said, "and I don't see why it would not work here."

"The merchants would lose nothing, because everyone in town would be out on the farms during the particular afternoons and the business they might lose during the afternoon will be waiting for the stores to open the next day."

Fear that the farmers would refuse to grow the large crops necessary next year if they do not receive help this summer and fall was expressed by many.

Danger of Waste
"I followed government directions to put new fields into production and I have done my best to produce more crops this year," one farmer said, "and from present indications I will have the largest crops I have ever produced. But if I can't obtain assistance in harvesting the crop much of it is going to rot in the fields. If that happens I will have to cut down the amount of crops I grow next year. If the crops rot they will be no good to anyone, and will just be a dead loss."

The work of the Emergency Farm Labor office and USES is appreciated by the farmers, they said, but they pointed out that the Farm Labor office will need much greater (Please Turn to Page 2)

FOOD CANNING TABLE IS GIVEN

It's useful for home canners to know how far a garden surplus or food in market will go in filling jars. It's a good idea to know what can be done with small quantities as well as large. Miss Mildred L. Adams, home economics extension representative for Adams county, said today:

"This year it's well worth-while to put up even three or four jars at a time. On the basis of blue ration canned foods, every jar of home-canned food represents a saving in ration points, besides all the other advantages of storing up summer food for winter."

To help thrifty homemakers figure how many jars of canned food to expect from fruits or vegetables as picked or bought, Miss Adams offered the following table, with the reminder that such figures are only approximate:

Snap beans: 1 bushel (28 pounds) cans 6 to 8 quarts, or 2 pounds can 1 quart.
Beets: 1 bushel (60 pounds) cans 18 to 20 quarts, or 2 1/2 pounds can 1 quart.
Berries (not strawberries): 1 crate (24 quarts) cans 18 quarts, or 1 1/2 to 2 quarts can 1 quart.
Carrots: 1 bushel (50 pounds) can 17 to 20 quarts, or 2 1/2 pounds can 1 quart.
Cherries: 1 bushel (56 pounds) or 1 crate (24 quarts) can 18 to 22 quarts, or 1 1/2 quarts unpitted can 1 quart.
Greens: 1 bushel (12 to 16 pounds) can 5 to 7 quarts, or 2 to 3 pounds can 1 quart.
Peas: 1 bushel (32 pounds) cans 12 to 16 pints, or 3 cups shelled or 2 quarts in pod can 1 pint.

Weather Forecast
Continued warm.

Graduates

Earl W. Smith, Hospital Apprentice, 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Smith, Hanover street, who recently graduated from the Naval Training Station, Bainbridge, Md. He was awarded a certificate by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy department. He is stationed at the U.S. Naval hospital, Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Smith is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barnes, R. 4.

TOWN'S TOURIST FACILITIES MAY HELP FARMERS

Plans to house vacation labor in tourist homes and camps in Gettysburg were discussed Thursday evening at a meeting of the Emergency Farm Labor committee at the Farm Labor office on Baltimore street.

The committee learned that some labor would be available from larger cities, with families planning to spend their vacations patriotically helping to harvest the nation's farm crops. The group is making arrangements with local tourist housekeepers to lodge the vacation workers during their stay here, it was stated.

At the same time the committee dropped previous plans to establish work camps at two sites in Adams county as unworkable at the present time.

Shorter Cherry Season
An appeal was made to youngsters of the county to help in harvesting crops. It was pointed out that even the most inexperienced youths would be of great help in harvesting the county's cherry, bean and tomato crops, all of which will be getting underway in the near future.

The cherry crop harvest will probably begin next week and despite the fact that the crop will be less than last year as many workers will be needed for the harvest.

While there will be fewer cherries on each tree there will be just as many trees, it was pointed out. The only difference will be in the length of the picking season.

Emergency Measures

The bean crop harvest will begin at the end of the cherry season. It is most important that no cherries go to waste because they were not picked. The small crop will reduce the number available to the soldiers and civilians so much that the county cannot afford to lose any of the crop through lack of workers, it was stated.

The committee asked parents to urge their children to help with the crop for patriotic reasons.

Discussions of possibilities of obtaining army help in case of emergency and the possibility of obtaining war prisoner labor concluded the meeting.

Announces Six Club Meetings

Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, announced today a schedule of six 4-H club meetings for next week. The sessions will be held at the homes of members.

The list of meetings follows: Monday at 7:30 p. m., New Chester Homemakers' club with Margie Deatrick; Tuesday at 1:30 p. m., Idaville clothing club at the schoolhouse; Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., Brush-ton outdoor cookery club with Mildred Worley; Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., Round Top homemakers' club with Christine Haenn, and at 7:30 p. m., Hunterstown homemakers' club with Margel Hutter, and Thursday at 7:30 p. m., Good Hope breakfast club with Helen Taylor.

TRUCKERS WILL HOLD MEETINGS TO STUDY NEEDS

A number of truckers' meetings in Adams county to outline solutions for problems facing the county's carriers will be held in the near future, H. Earl Pitzer, chairman of the York-Adams and Franklin counties region of the Office of Defense Transportation, has announced.

Mr. Pitzer today was attending the tenth annual meeting and War Problems conference of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association at Harrisburg at which leading authorities ranging from the state Selective Service director and regional director of the War Manpower commission to authorities on gasoline and parts, are outlining various solutions to the problems.

Following discussion with the Federal officials, the truckers plan to set-up local distribution centers which will augment the present arrangements by which truckers are aiding one another in securing full return loads in order to comply with ODT directives and are "trading" trucks among themselves in order to secure the greatest use of the carriers.

Trading Trucks

It was pointed out that a large number of Adams county trucks have been turned over to out-of-county carriers for a few weeks while the season is slack here in order that the trucks will not stand idle during the great need for trucks.

A few weeks ago the larger carriers in the county were "borrowing" trucks from out of county carriers who were experiencing a slack season, it was stated. Through cooperation between truckers, none of the trucks has been forced to wait for return loads after delivery for very long periods of time, it was pointed out. When a truck delivers a load in nearby cities other loads are made available by other truckers.

The regular route of many county trucks recently has been to deliver foodstuffs such as fruit from the county to army centers and then to return to New Cumberland and other nearby army centers with clothes and other articles needed by the camps.

Mr. Pitzer was recently selected as head of the three county region while Cletus Mummert, East Berlin, was named as vice chairman representing contract carriers.

Two Couples Get Licenses To Wed

Marriage licenses have been issued at the court house to:

Donald Guy Wenk, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Guy Wenk, Aspers R. 1, and Mary Jane MacBeth, daughter of Mrs. Guy MacBeth, Biglerville R. 1.

John Harold Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, and Pauline Lettie Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Allison, Gettysburg R. 3.

MRS. SOWERS, DIES THURSDAY

Mrs. Clara O. Sowers, 87, widow of William A. Sowers, died Thursday afternoon at 3:50 o'clock at 344 Baltimore street from infirmities of age. She had been ill nine weeks.

She was born in Adams county, a daughter of the late George and Mary H. (Mickley) Bushey. For eight years she resided at Knoxly with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hamilton. The deceased was a member of Flohr's Lutheran church. Her husband died in 1925.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. Hamilton, Knoxly; Mrs. Joseph Blewett, Reading; C. Lester, Fairfield; Mrs. H. E. Cluck, Gettysburg R. 3; Dorsey W. Gettysburg, and Karl E., Brooklyn, New York; one sister, Mrs. Larkin J. Bucher, Gettysburg R. D.; two brothers, Luther Bushey, Washington, D. C.; 17 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Herbert Schmidt, Woodsboro, Maryland, and the Rev. A. R. Longenecker, Interment in Flohr's cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening after 7 o'clock.

Rev. Keller Made Acting Supt. For White Hill School

The Rev. Eugene S. Keller, former manager of Yoost's store, Littlestown R. 2, and for some time assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School for Boys near White Hill, has been named acting superintendent of the school pending appointment by the governor.

The Rev. Mr. Keller was moved up to his new post Wednesday following resignation of the superintendency of Major Henry C. Hill to accept an appointment as chairman of the state parole board.

The Rev. Mr. Keller is a World War I veteran. He served as a chaplain.

MOTHERS HAVE PATRIOTIC DUTY IN HOME CARES

"To protect the Christian family," the members of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women went on record Wednesday, at a session held at Harrisburg, as recommending that the mothers of young children be encouraged to stay at home instead of going into industries, emphatically opposing the "Birth Control and Planned Parenthood" fallacies, opposing the "Equal Rights" amendment and pledging every cooperation through Red Cross, USO or other agencies in helping the war effort.

"Because of the serious condition arising from lack of home care for children," the group recommended that the mothers of young children feel their patriotic duty to stay home with the children because "a nation's richest resources are its children." And asked that "in the event that stringent economic need or greatly accelerated war effort causes an all-out mobilization of women that careful, well organized and supervised day care be provided for the children of working mothers."

In another resolution the Diocesan council again "emphatically repudiates the so-called Birth Control and Planned Parenthood fallacies. First, because these practices are in direct contradiction to the laws of God and nature and, second, because these practices have already sapped the strength of our nation and will surely lead it to decay."

Oppose Consumers Union

The council also opposed the Consumers Union for its recent activity in regards to soliciting funds from its members for court action for the removal of the postoffice ban against the dissemination of birth preventative information through the mails.

The group opposed the Equal Rights amendment, holding that amendment fails to "recognize the fundamental differences between the sexes" and would "endanger" laws already on the statute books guaranteeing adequate protection of women workers, fair labor standards and safe and sanitary conditions of work for women workers.

A number of county women attended the session.

Union Vespers At U.B. Sunday

The second weekly community Vesper service will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the Memorial United Brethren church.

The Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas, pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon at the service in which all of the Protestant churches of the town will participate.

To Give Test For WAACS Next Friday

Corporal Lola Mae Harvey of the WAACS, recruiting in this area, announced today that next Friday she will be prepared to give mental alertness tests to prospective WAACS at the local post office until 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

Young women who are interested in joining this branch of the service may leave their names with Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler anytime next week. Corporal Harvey will then contact the prospect upon her arrival here next week.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Robert Anders, Greenmount; Mrs. Frederic J. Hughes, York street; Mrs. Elmer Bosserman, Gettysburg R. 3; Fred Furney, West Middle street, and Jesse Poulson, Emmitsburg, have been admitted to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Edward Rebert, Guernsey; H. Leo Gulden, Fairfield R. 2; Mrs. Joseph Rosensteel, Aspers, and Sandra Wolff, East High street.

FDR Rejects Deadline On Coal Strike; WLB Defiant

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would not recognize or accept an October 31 deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in government-operated mines.

The chief executive told a press conference he was merely trying to see that coal was mined and that this had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

Meanwhile the War Labor Board went to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes with a stern request that the government compel the United Mine Workers to comply fully with the board's order or that punishment be imposed.

2-Year Contract

Board members told Byrnes that the country's largest corporations, U. S. Steel (in the federal ship-building case) and General Motors, complied with WLB orders, however reluctantly, but that in the coal case only the operators have been penalized. Their mines have been seized although they are ready to obey the WLB.

Full compliance would mean the signing of a two-year contract containing a pledge not to strike for the duration of the war. The contract handed down by the board would permit reopening of the wage clauses in the interim but otherwise it is the 1941-43 Appalachian agreement plus some concessions such as higher vacation payments, and free tools and equipment.

Open Penalties

WLB members said penalties against the miners were not intended but that the union, as such, should be brought to book for defiance. The penalties might take the form of a suspension of the dues checkoff or freezing of the UMW treasury.

The board also made plain that it has finally determined the controversy between the miners and the operators and all that remains is a matter of enforcement. This was taken to mean that retroactive liabilities against the operators are no longer accruing, unless, of course, the miners sue successfully in court for portal-to-portal pay under the wage and hour law.

The WLB demand for Lewis' signature on a contract pointed out the long-standing difference in outlook between its members and Secretary Ickes, the only government agent Lewis has recognized as having any authority. Ickes is the boss of the mines under federal operation.

WM. F. ABELL, GUIDE, DIES

William F. Abell, 69, Gettysburg R. 3, died at his home Thursday evening at 11 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in failing health for some time and was bedfast a month.

He was born and always resided in Adams county, a son of the late Frank and Henrietta (Bowers) Abell. For 15 years he was a battlefield guide and prior to that was employed by the Gettysburg National Park as a laborer. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 1562, Gettysburg, and the Battlefield Guides association.

Surviving are his widow, the former Lucy C. Martin, to whom he was married 49 years; six children, William J., James F., and Mrs. Stephen Wagaman, all at home; Mrs. George Reaver, Charles V., and Mrs. Jack Chamberlain, all of Gettysburg; 14 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; one brother, George W., New Oxford, one sister, Mrs. Rose Keyser, New Oxford.

Funeral services Monday morning, meeting at the Bender funeral home at 8:30 o'clock with a high requiem mass at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church conducted by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock. Interment in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening after 7 o'clock.

May Be Toehold For Big Thrust Through Balkans

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 25 (AP)—U. S. Ninth Air Force Liberators struck for the first time yesterday at the historic Greek port of Salonika from Middle East bases while about 300 American bombers and fighters of the Northwest African command battered communications of Sardinia, 700 miles to the west, it was announced today.

Cairo communiques said more than 50 Liberators, scored direct hits on three hangars at the Axis-occupied Sedes airdrome of Salonika, leaving all of them in flames. Pilots saw explosives burst among administration buildings and on the field and dispersal areas.

3 Airplanes Are Destroyed
"At least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and oil fires were started," one Middle East bulletin said. "None of our aircraft is missing from these and other operations."

(The attack upon Salonika, a possible objective of any Balkan invasion, involved a round trip of more than 1,000 miles across the Mediterranean.)

Enemy air fields, docks, shipping and an important railway junction of Sardinia were hammered by U. S. squadrons of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' Air Forces after RAF Wellingtons attacked Catania, in Sicily, the preceding night.

These raiders shot down 20 of the many enemy fighters encountered and an RAF Beaufighter bagged another to make the score 21. The Allies lost nine planes.

A Valletta communique announced that Malta-based RAF planes attacked industrial installations at Pozzallo, Sicily, yesterday and similar targets at Augusta, Sicily, last night.

LOCAL GIRL IS WED JUNE 19 IN NAVY HOSPITAL

(Wholly unconfirmed Axis broadcasts declared six vessels had been sunk in the Mediterranean in new attacks upon Allied convoys. A German broadcast said Nazi submarines sank three ships totaling 15,000 tons from a convoy yesterday.

Axis Claims

(Today's Italian communique, recorded by the Associated Press from a Rome broadcast, declared that Italian torpedo planes sank three steamers, totalling 31,000 tons out of Allied convoys along the north African coasts, after repeated night attacks. Three more were reported damaged.

(Rome also asserted that Bizerte and ships at anchor there were attacked by Axis bombers.)

The Cairo war bulletin said that at Salonika hits were scored on administration buildings, airdrome runways and dispersal areas, at least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground, and fires were started among oil supplies as well as in the three hangars.

Rites Held Today For J. E. Wisler

Funeral services for James E. Wisler, 76, who died Tuesday morning, were held from the Bender funeral home this afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. R. R. Gresh. Interment in Greenmount cemetery, Arendtsville.

The pallbearers were John Basehore, John Sentz, Frank Hess, Alex Caras, Jesse Snyder and Harvey Bushman.

Today's Features

In order to properly present our "Paint Pages" features today we have distributed our regular daily and weekly features over several pages.

On page five, six and seven will be found the paint advertisements of Gettysburg and Adams county merchants who are cooperating with the government in its appeal to property owners to preserve their properties "until victory" when priorities will be lifted and owners may purchase materials essential to rebuild or construct.

Chapter nineteen of the serial story "Loser Take All" is on page eight and the church notices of Gettysburg and Adams county churches are on page four.

Thursday's high mark came at 4 p. m. when 93 degrees were recorded. The minimum Thursday was 60 while today's minimum was 65.

JAPAN IS BUSY PREPARING FOR ALLIED ATTACK

By MAX HILL

Japan's military masters are too realistic to make the same foolish pledges to their people that the Germans once made about devastating air raids. Once Hitler's satellites boldly promised that German cities never would be bombed. They know better now.

But Tomokazu Hori, a rough and tumble Japanese who was educated in California and knows the fallacy of duping the common people, recently told Japan in a broadcast specially prepared for domestic consumption to be ready for such attacks. Hori is spokesman for the Japanese board of information.

Raid on Japan proper from the Aleutians and China are in the making, he warned, and then said: "We cannot guarantee there is no possibility that America and Britain will not take concrete steps for operations against Japan."

Burma Route Logical

He saw in the Allied victory in Africa an opportunity for America to drop the "holding" war against Japan and instead wage one definitely offensive in character.

Despite the fact that he included the Aleutians there isn't much doubt that Burma is our logical route for attack. That means China in the long run, just as Hori pointed out to the home folk. He said:

"More than anything, the enemy is contemplating the recapture of Burma, which is the key to the offensive in the far east. We can think of the possibility of an opening of an offensive from the Burma area about the time of the close of the monsoon season, which comes some time in October."

Preparing for Defense

Until then, of course, we can only strengthen our forces in India, keep hammering at the defensive outposts which circle Honshu, the main Japanese island, and seek to recapture Kiska, the American island which the Japanese took over more than a year ago.

This may be a sobering thought for those who think we have an easy time ahead in the Pacific. The Japanese captured the vast and rich Pacific area in less than ninety days. Since then their army—at least the main forces—have been doing nothing but build defenses.

In the meantime we have no more than engaged minor units on islands such as Guadalcanal, which is 3,000 miles from Tokyo. The rest of the army, with the help of at least a quarter of a billion Asiatics, has been preparing to ward off an attack.

Bring Equity Bill To Get Accounting

Harvey P. Jones, Merion; Ruth B. Jones and Ernestine H. Plummer, Philadelphia, owners of Elevation Orchards, near Fairfield, have filed a bill in equity with the county court against George A. Shinnham, manager of Elevation Orchards since January 3, 1942.

The bill, filed by Jones' attorneys, Keith, Bigham and Markley, Esqs., asks a full accounting of the income of the farm, and alleges Shinnham is $4,000 short in his accounts. The bill also asks that Shinnham be prevented from acting as manager after alleging that Shinnham refused to allow Jones on the property and prevents Harold Carson, who was named by Jones to succeed Shinnham as manager, from performing his duties.

The bill also alleges Shinnham sold a number of articles off the farm without permission and had title to a truck made over into his name.

FIREMEN'S PARTY THIS EVENING

Greatly pleased with the "splendid response" from the residents of this community to the "give cash instead of food" drive conducted by the members of the Gettysburg fire company this week, firemen announced plans for a party at the engine house this evening with awarding of prizes set for 9 o'clock. Other special attractions have been planned.

One member of the committee handling the solicitations—which take the place this year of the annual five-day carnival and bazaar by the firemen—said donations already amount to "more than $1,000."

The firemen gave up earlier plans for their foodsale and bazaar because of the rationing of foodstuffs and the restrictions on travel.

Reformeds Mark Communion Sunday

The Preparatory service to the Holy Communion will be held at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The guest organist will be the Rev. Robert Rau of Gettysburg college.

William Black, a sophomore at Gettysburg college, will be the guest soloist singing "O Divine Redeemer." The members of the junior and senior choirs will sing. The Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. Sunday morning.

DASHES HOPES FOR MORE GAS

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Hope of relieving civilian gasoline rationing curbs on the east coast this summer apparently was dashed today by action of Secretary Ickes, as petroleum administrator, in allotting a scant 328,000 barrels daily for civilian use through July, August and September.

Ickes said he was fully aware that the allotment "must necessarily result in considerable inconvenience to millions of people" and in many cases business dislocations and actual economic losses.

Actually the allotment is 2,000 barrels a day greater than in June, but the increase is a negligible one. Ickes said the continued stringency of rationing is "absolutely necessary" in view of tremendous and constantly increasing military demands.

"We fervently hope that the continuing progress which is being made in the movement of oil to the east will make it possible sooner or later to increase our supplies to the point where larger amounts can be made available for civilian use," he declared.

King Returns From War Tour

An RAF Base in Britain, June 25 (AP)—King George VI returned to his homeland today from an extraordinary tour of the North African battlefield, his big four-engined bomber landing at this base just after 6 a. m.

The king, deeply tanned and smiling, was the first to step from the plane. An RAF guard of honor presented arms and Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the British air staff, stepped forward to greet the monarch.

The big bomber, escorted by ten Spitfires, landed an hour ahead of schedule because of an unexpectedly strong tail wind. A short time later Winston Churchill's automobile sped up and the Prime Minister alighted smiling.

The smile disappeared when he was told he was late. Scowling slightly, he was driven to the RAF mess to join the king.

OIL INDUSTRY FACES CRISIS AFTER CONFLICT

Pittsburgh, June 25 (AP)—The end of the war will find the Pennsylvania oil industry up against the toughest competition it has ever had to face, Parker L. Melvin, president of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association, declared today.

Part of the competition will come from the "mad scramble" to regain foreign markets lost during the war, he said in an address prepared for delivery at the association's 20th annual meeting.

"The war," he continued, "has hastened the normal improvement of products. Plants have been erected which are now producing greater quantities of more competitive materials than we had to contend with before. Pipelines have been laid which will naturally affect distribution and marketing practices of our region."

Government Control

"No one can accurately predict the economic conditions we are going to find in the future. We watch the growing spiral of inflation with apprehension because of its effects on the country as a whole and our region in particular.

"The degree of governmental control and the probable reluctance to relinquish that which has been created on the grounds of war-time necessity are matters of the prime concern to our industry."

Melvin said the demand for oil will fall off sharply when the war is won and the government no longer demands such great quantities for military purposes this resulting in "a gradual trend toward peacetime operations with many adjustments necessary."

GREAT FORCE OF BOMBERS BLASTS REICH

London, June 25 (AP)—The RAF carried its offensive against the Ruhr to a new peak last night by returning to the bomb-battered city of Wuppertal in great strength and making a concentrated attack on important chemical and textile manufacturing plants there.

Thirty-three bombers failed to return from the night's operations, which included assaults on other targets in the Ruhr and laying mines in enemy waters.

The attack was concentrated on the industrial area of Elberfeld, the western section of Wuppertal, the Air Ministry said.

"The attack was nearly as heavy as that recently made on Barmen, the eastern half of Wuppertal, and from preliminary reports great damage appears to have been done," a communique declared.

Heavy Defense

Heavy defensive activity was reported by the fliers who returned from the area, which Hitler has packed with anti-aircraft guns, searchlight batteries and fighter planes in an effort to stave off the battering being given his heavy industries in the region.

The German communique said "losses among the populations of the towns attacked are heavy." The communique, broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said several towns were hit, "in particular Wuppertal-Elberfeld and Remscheid."

Last night's raid, accomplished on a moonless night, marked the fifth consecutive night the RAF has struck either Germany or Italy—with the most paralyzing blows falling on the vital Ruhr area.

It was the sixth night of a powerful offensive which began with the assault on the Schneider Munition works at Le Creusot, 170 miles southeast of Paris, last Saturday night.

In the six-day period 135 Allied bombers had been lost.

24 HELD ON RIOT COUNTS

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Joseph Onorati, 19, was held in $5,000 bail on a charge of attempting to incite a riot and 23 other youths were in the house of correction today because, police said, they were found with lengths of pipe and baseball bats during Wednesday night's air raid alert.

Policemen testified at their arraignment that they were "out to cause trouble" during the blackout. All the youths were charged with conspiracy to commit a breach of peace.

New Inheritance Tax Act Supported

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Attorney General James H. Duff contends the 1943 acts which gave the Department of Revenue, instead of the auditor general, control over inheritance tax collections are proper exercise of legislative powers under the state constitution.

Answering a bill in equity brought in the Dauphin county court by two Philadelphia inheritance tax workers, Duff said yesterday the laws were completely valid and said the complainants failed to present a cause for action.

Upper Communities

Judy Wright, of Mechanicsburg, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Walter Wright of Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawver had as guests Thursday at their home in Biglerville Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hutchinson, of Gap; Edith Daugherty, of Lancaster and Dolores Daugherty, of Gettysburg.

The sale held at the home of the late Curtis J. Fohl in Biglerville Thursday afternoon was well attended and prices generally high.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stough, of Baltimore, spent Thursday with Mrs. Stough's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Routsong, of Bendersville.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kreider, of Freeport, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Delp, of Idaville.

Dale Roth, of York Springs, will be the leader for the community Christian Endeavor service which will be held on the lawn of the Biglerville high school Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. A brass quartet from York Springs will furnish special music.

Glenn Bushey, who has been stationed with the armed forces in Brazil, South America, is with his mother, Mrs. George Bushey, of York Springs, after which he will enter an Officers' Candidate School.

Pvt. Clair Shank, Fort Ord, California, has been spending a 15-day furlough with his grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Lawver, Idaville.

The Ladies' Bible class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school, Bendersville, met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Samuel Pitzer. Fourteen members were present. The July meeting will be held with Mrs. Ira Schlosser.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trimble will move July 1 from the Jester farm, east of Biglerville, to the former Merritt Frain farm, near Center Mills, purchased recently by Walter Ryman. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins will move from Aspers R. D. to the Jester farm.

Miss Nancy Jester, Pittsburgh, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville R. D.

FUTURE OF OIL SUPPLY DARK

Pittsburgh, June 25 (AP)—Warning that the United States is threatened with a permanent oil shortage after another two years unless there are "miraculously prompt" developments to offset declining production was sounded today by a high ranking government oil expert.

Robert E. Allen, assistant deputy petroleum administrator, told the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association that the nation would still have enough motor fuel for essential needs, but the prospective shortage might dash dreams of huge post-war fleets of airplanes.

Meanwhile, he said, progressively increasing difficulties of finding and developing oil fields will make it necessary to provide explorers and producers an added incentive in the form of higher prices if they are to keep the nation supplied with petroleum in adequate quantity.

"The decline of production, inexorable as it is, tells us that only by the miraculously prompt discovery of great new fields and by continuously completing more than 20,000 wells a year we will be able to maintain our present rate of 1,500-2,000,000 barrels a year for more than the next two years," he said.

"Beyond that time, if new billions of barrels of oil are not discovered and if thousands of necessary new wells are not drilled, the United States faces the prospect of a permanent dearth of crude petroleum and its derivatives unless we are able and willing to import a substantial part of our requirements from foreign sources."

Mothers Identify Bodies Of Sons

Chester, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Two of the many mothers who looked with fear-stricken eyes at the bodies of two boys struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train yesterday finally identified them as James Rhodes and James Otuba, both 10 and both of nearby Ridley Park.

The boys, neighbors, apparently did not hear the electric train whistle because of the noise of a passing freight, the engineer, Howard Searles of Wilmington, Delaware, said.

The Otuba boy was hurled to one side but his playmate was ground beneath the wheels.

"Rip" Sewell, "Defeat" Champ Of Last Season, Leads National Hurlers

WON NINE AND LOST 2; BEAT CUBS 5 TIMES

By JUDSON BAILEY

The Associated Press
Truett Banks Sewell, a strawberry blond from the deep south, led the National league in defeats last year, but this season has a chance to lead it in victories, which is versatility to say the least.

To date "Rip" has won nine games, going the route in every one, and has been beaten only twice—once by one run and another time when his Pittsburgh Pirates were shut out.

This is a record matched by no other pitcher in the senior circuit and seems to prove that at the age of 35, when most pitchers have gone over the hill, Sewell is still climbing.

In 1940 his record was 16-5, last year 14-17 and this year he could write his own ticket if he could choose the number of times he would get to face the Chicago Cubs.

Beat Cubs 5 Times
Thus far he has beaten them five times, including 2-1 yesterday, times, including 2-1 yesterday, without a setback. This is one of the principal reasons the Pirates are a strong third in the National league, four games back of Brooklyn.

The Dodgers were set down by the New York Giants 3-1 after winning the first five games of a six-game series and lost ground not only to the encroaching Pirates but also to the first place St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 in a morning game.

Brooklyn's loss was occasioned by a three-hit pitching beauty by Lefty Cliff Melton, although the Giants themselves were held to five safeties by three hurlers. Harry Gumbert held the Reds to seven hits to beat Bucky Walters for the second time in ten days.

The Phillies battered the Boston Braves with 16 hits to win a 12-5 decision and split their six-game series, with St. Johnson taking credit for his seventh victory.

Mackmen Win
In the American league the two top clubs, New York and Washington, were idle but their leading rivals both were beaten. The Philadelphia Athletics overpowered the Boston Red Sox 8-3, scoring all their last three turns at bat, and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians 7-4. Virgil Trucks pitched the route in the latter game and also made three of the Tigers' twelve hits.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a double-header with Vern Stephens hitting a single with the bases loaded in the tenth inning of the opener to give the Browns an 8-7 victory and the Sox retaliating with a 9-2 verdict in the nightcap. The two games produced 48 hits and three in each contest were made by Chicago's rookie star, Guy Curtright, who extended his batting streak to 20 games.

Segura And Cochell In Court "Natural"

Evanston, Ill., June 25 (AP)—The march that would have been a crowd "natural" for tomorrow's singles final in the National Collegiate Athletic association tennis championships is on the program today billed simply as the upper bracket semi-finals—Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Miami versus Earl Cochell of Southern California.

While the meet's No. 2 and No. 5 seeded players, Tom Brown, Jr., of California and James Evert of Notre Dame, tangled in the lower bracket roundup on the Northwestern university courts, all the attention was focused on this upper-section clash of the two outstanding personalities of the six-day tournament.

Segura, 22-year-old native of Ecuador, has captivated the crowd with his dazzling, jerky style of two-handed swinging. Cochell, 21 and a worker in a California shipyard during last year's meet, is a friendly, scrappy lad. He remembers a former meeting with Segura—back in 1941 at the national grass courts meet at Rye, N. Y.—when he beat the little South American, 7-5, 6-2.

Bright Clothes Urged For Hunters

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania hunters gunning for woodchuck after the season opens July 1 are urged today by the state Game Commission to wear bright hunting costumes to avoid being shot accidentally.

Officials listed three precautions for hunters: "One, wear plenty of red, orange or even white clothing; two, refrain from lying down in high grass with head uncovered; and three, carefully select a place of concealment that will not invite a shot from someone who fires at the slightest movement."

DECLARE DIVIDEND

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—An interim dividend of 40 cents a share, largest half-year payment since 1932, will be paid July 26 to Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. stockholders of record July 3.

Two Managers Get Chased By Umpires

(By The Associated Press)
One way for a baseball manager to get an evening off is to sass the umpire.

Del Bissonette of the Hartford Laurels and Tony Lazzeri of the Wilkes-Barre Barons did it last night—with the customary results. They were chased from the field. The Laurels were celebrating their first trip of the season to Utica by trimming the Braves 4-2.

In other games last night, Albany edged Springfield 6-5, and the Elmira Pioneers soundly thumped the league-leading Scranton Red Sox 8-2.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 25 (AP)—Milo Candini, the American league's leading pitcher (won 7 lost 0), hasn't much more chance of being picked for the all star game at Philly July 13 than Hank Borowy had last year when he had the same sort of record. . . . Story is that not even Candini's manager, Ossie Bluege, named him on his ballot. . . . And speaking of all-stars, the Washington Redskins may be in for a surprise when they play the college all-star footballers at Chicago, Aug. 25. . . . So far Arch Ward has announced only real college players, but the team likely will include such prominent ex-pros as Steve Lach, Tony Canadeo, Frank Naznicki and Rudy Mucha.

Add utter confusion dept.: Alorner, winner of the Arlington park primer stakes at Washington park yesterday, also won the Lincoln Fields Joliet stakes at Hawthorne. And pretty soon it will be Empire City at Jamaica and Saratoga at Belmont.

HOW TIMES CHANGE

Nolly Sams, Charleston, S. C., Evening Post sports writer and president of Charleston's Victory baseball league, wants it understood that his is no small-change circuit. . . . Because of the scarcity of nickels, Nolly ordered his ticket sellers to jump the grandstand price from 35 to 40 cents, and so far there hasn't been a single complaint about the increase.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Every time he plays a game without hitting a homer, Joe Medwick is losing ground in his "feud" with Johnny Mize that began when they both were Cardinals. Mize caught up with Joe at the 154 home run mark before he started slugging 'em for the Navy. . . . Bob Shelley, Narragansett park racing secretary, is trying to cook up a Whirlaway-Alsab-Count Fleet tussle for the fall meeting. He's the one who finally got Whirlly and Alsab together last year. . . . Figure this one out—on the same day that Babe Ruth proclaimed the major leagues won't finish the season because the club owners are losing too much dough, the Giants and Dodgers finished their first round with a total paid attendance of 65,643 for five games.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Al Del Greco, Hackensack, (N. J.) Bergen Record: "Now that Abe Greene has decided that Tony Galento is an 'entertainer' and not a fighter, any group planning to run a county fair can book T.G. for a week or so. . . . An obliging fellow when the dough is on the line, T.G. will pose with the prize heifers and may even go thirty fast seconds with the prize bull."

CASUAL WATER

When the battleship California was raised from the bottom of Pearl Harbor, one of the salvaged items was a set of golf clubs found in the cabin of Lieut. Comdr. Elvin Hahn. . . . They were sent to Hahn's mother in Newark, N. J., and she shipped them off to the factory for much needed repairs. . . . Officers of the company promptly wrote to Hahn, asking if he'd trade the clubs for the finest set they made in the plant, and recently this note came back: "Thank you very much. I now have an added incentive to help bring the war to a speedy, successful conclusion." . . . And the $64 question is what will the commander say the first time he flubs a shot with those new clubs?

SERVICE DEPT.

Dartmouth, which expects to get a better than fair football team from the Navy this fall, seems to be getting a basketball team from the Marines. Frank Plantamura and Lionel Baxter, who helped St. John's win the Garden Invitation tournament, will report at Hanover July 1 to start their Marine training. . . . Nineteen of the 32 enlisted men on the Second Air Force "Bombers" grid team last fall have gone through OCS and earned commissions. . . . When the Cubs played at Fort Sheridan, Ill., plenty of privates had good seats but Brig. General Olin H. Longino had to stand in the outfield all through the game.

BIG 10 OPENS ATHLETICS TO ALL STUDENTS

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Stepping up its program of fitting men for service in the armed forces, the Western conference has lifted its rigid athletic eligibility barriers for the duration, assuring sports participation for every student—whether he be a freshman, sailor, soldier, marine or a holder of a 4-P card.

Heartily endorsing the action of the faculty committee, Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten Commissioner of Athletics, said:

"We don't want our boys to worry about their eligibility. This move was designed to erase all obstacles until our students return after the war. It may help relieve our shortage of football players this fall, but we are not thinking in terms of 'inter-collegiate' sports any more, but rather in terms of how we best can train men for the armed forces."

Keep Eligibility

This latest action augments earlier moves which waived residence rules and removed the ban on freshman participation in varsity sports. Now, no competition by any athlete will be assessed against his record when he returns after the war. Servicemen-athletes of one school who have been shifted to other universities for specialized training will, therefore, be assured of keeping their eligibility intact at their original school although they may compete on varsity teams where they are stationed.

The only eligibility requirements to be enforced are those of regular enrollment in school as a student, and the non-receipt of pay for athletic services. Scholarships eligibility has been left up to each university.

Montgomery Given Commission Okay

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Bob Montgomery is going to fight here this summer. He has the sanction of the new Pennsylvania Athletic commission. Now all he needs is an opponent.

The commission, which took office yesterday, undertook to provide opposition, too, for the recently reorganized lightweight champion. Chairman Leon Rains said he would be matched with the No. 1 challenger—as soon as the challenger is designated.

Rains and the other hold-over commissioner, George J. Jones, Jr., Williamsport, were sworn in at Harrisburg with the new member, Matty B. Bain, Uniontown, who said "there won't be any deviation" from acts of the General Assembly or Commission policy when he takes charge of the Pittsburgh office today.

Rains, a Philadelphian, said commission activities "are in a healthy condition and the commission is now self-sustaining" because of the 5 per cent tax on boxing and wrestling match receipts.

REDUCE LEAD OF WILMINGTON

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington's lead in the Interstate baseball league was thinner today than an office boy's alibi in World series time, and it was mostly Lancaster's fault.

The Roses upset the league leaders, 9-3, Manager Woodie Wheaton taking over the pitching assignment when Cy Slaalen's arm was injured in the fifth.

At the same time Allentown, back under its old ownership, dropped an 11-0 decision to Hagerstown, advancing the Owls to a few percentage points short of a first-place tie.

At Butz said he reassumed control of the Wings because a syndicate which took over last week-end "just didn't put the money on the line," he added that Herb Brett would continue as manager with power to hire new players for the last place club.

In the third league game York pushed over four runs after going scoreless eight innings but they weren't enough to offset Trenton's five and York vacated third place in favor of Lancaster.

Milwaukee Baseball Fans Respond To Free Novelties

By ARTHUR BYSTROM

Milwaukee (AP)—It is two hours before game time at the Milwaukee Brewer baseball park.

On the mound is a well-built, bare-headed young man, clad in shorts and a sport shirt tossing baseballs to batters for practice.

Twenty minutes later he quits, dashes to an office beneath the stands, takes a shower, changes to a pair of slacks and drinks a "black cow"—root beer with ice cream.

An hour before game time a swing band begins "giving out" from its perch high in the grandstand, and the young man is at the main entrance, shaking hands with fans as they enter.

He greets most of them by their first name. If he doesn't know them, he shakes hands anyway, and says:

"I'm Bill Vecek, I hope you enjoy our games."

Pays Dividends

He's the energetic, 29-year-old president and owner of the Milwaukee Baseball Club whose innovations, hard work and sound baseball judgment have increased home attendance five times—68,325 in 1940 to 346,123 in 1942—and brought the club from last place to a leading contender in just two years.

When Vecek bought the club in the middle of the 1941 season it looked all but hopeless. The team was in last place, 22 games behind the seventh place club. It was in dire financial straits; the park was run down and shabby. Light posts obstructed vision in many sections of the stands. The park hadn't been painted in 10 years. Stands were dirty and seats were broken.

Today it gleams with fresh paint. Seats and aisles are spick and span. Attractive girls in smart uniforms distribute spotless white cushions to women. Well groomed attendants distribute the "Brewer Baseball News" free to patrons. A band plays before the games and between innings. Light posts for floodlights are in positions where only a few fans are inconvenienced. Players say the field is the finest in the American association.

Many Deals

Vecek brought up genial Charley Grimm to manage his team. Both had worked for the Chicago Cubs organization. They started spending money for players, making trades and improving the park. Before the end of the season they had made 45 player deals and spent about $40,000 for improvements.

Vecek started greeting fans and invited their ideas for improving the club and park. He installed an "idea box" into which fans could drop comments or suggestions.

Vecek started his special nights during 1942 and got into several verbal jousts with other team owners that made good copy and helped his attendance. He started a "feud" with President George Trautman, of the association, over what he called Trautman's "blind boys" (the umpires).

Receives "Gift"

One night he had Trautman as a guest in his box. Then he announced that he was to give the president a present.

Trautman had to walk to the center of the diamond to get it. From a corner of the stands came an attendant being led by a seeing eye dog. Another attendant brought forth a red-striped cane and a cup containing pencils. Vecek presented Stands were dirty and seats were broken.

Today it gleams with fresh paint. Seats and aisles are spick and span. Attractive girls in smart uniforms distribute spotless white cushions to women. Well groomed attendants distribute the "Brewer Baseball News" free to patrons. A band plays before the games and between innings. Light posts for floodlights are in positions where only a few fans are inconvenienced. Players say the field is the finest in the American association.

Many Deals

Vecek brought up genial Charley Grimm to manage his team. Both had worked for the Chicago Cubs organization. They started spending money for players, making trades and improving the park. Before the end of the season they had made 45 player deals and spent about $40,000 for improvements.

Vecek started greeting fans and invited their ideas for improving the club and park. He installed an "idea box" into which fans could drop comments or suggestions.

Vecek started his special nights during 1942 and got into several verbal jousts with other team owners that made good copy and helped his attendance. He started a "feud" with President George Trautman, of the association, over what he called Trautman's "blind boys" (the umpires).

Receives "Gift"

Trautman had to walk to the center of the diamond to get it. From a corner of the stands came an attendant being led by a seeing eye dog. Another attendant brought forth a red-striped cane and a cup containing pencils. Vecek presented

An Evening Thought

Rules of society are nothing, one's conscience is the umpire.—Madame Duvant.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

THE STORY OF WAR

At first men fought with clubs and stones,

Which kept their wars to little zones,

But by and by the wheel was made

And fiercer grew the warrior's trade.

The tribe which left its fate to chance

Went down before the pointed lance.

As time went on, with defter skill

Man fashioned surer ways to kill.

The Roman legions built machines

Which added to war's fearful scenes.

And seeing slaughter so increase

'Twas fabled men would cherish peace.

'Tis thus the tale of warfare runs:

Came powder next and with it guns!

Then came the machine gun, the tank

Such cruel weapons cannot face.

No generation can survive

The grim devices men contrive!"

But every truth which science

Learned

To things for making war was Turned

And more and more the horror grew

As knowledge fashioned weapons

New.

And still we say: "War can't survive

The fearful weapons men contrive!"

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

INTERIOR STEADINESS

We all know those who stand out before us as examples of superior wisdom and character. An interior steadiness seems to hold them ever to their main purpose in life. A cornerstone of faith keeps them immovable in a world of doubt and fear.

I have noted that all students and lovers of Nature seem to be men and women of rare character and unusually balanced in mind. They face the facts of life with calmness and assurance. Having searched the heart of Nature, they see the beauty and permanence of the human soul. And so they look on God with reverence.

Nature never seems to be in a hurry. Its growth is nearly always steady—and according to plan.

Take the cut tree and note its minute rings of growth from year to year. It takes a long time to grow a great oak! Man often wishes to build things overnight. His restlessness is not that of Nature, which takes time.

Each year that I go to my little island home in Nova Scotia I see little change in the many beloved trees that stand so sturdily and thickly about the small cabin. It's like meeting old friends again. This is one reason why it steadies me inside to return to the calm and beauty of this small forest retreat.

Vacations are good in such a place.

Nothing contributes to this interior steadiness more than does one's abiding faith. To look upon the stars at night, or to tramp the forest, gives one the opportunity to review and to think. It is good to get away from the confusion and whirl of the city in order that the mind may put itself in better order.

The more flowers are studied, and the more one's thoughts are centered upon the enduring things of life,

the clearer this faith becomes.

Nothing eternally dies in Nature.

Then surely nothing can eternally die in the soul of man.

When we go into our home at night from the darkness without,

and turn the electric switch, we do so with the understanding and assurance that light will immediately result. That is the way faith works when we are confronted with the darkness of doubt. It lights up everything! It is interior steadiness in itself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Eyes and Ears."

OWNERS KEEP PROPERTY IN GOOD REPAIR

In keeping with the Government's war-time appeals that property owners keep their property in good repair because of the priorities on so many materials and as a means of conservation Adams county merchants have consistently maintained a well-balanced stock of paints and varnishes and other cover-alls for the convenience of their customers.

Manufacturers have been able to maintain the quantity and quality of paint equal to prewar stocks and many property owners have heeded the Government's urgings and have made every effort to keep their homes and other buildings in repair as well as well painted.

Paint dealers report that sales this spring and early summer have been unusual thus confirming the belief that householders, farmers and others are striving to preserve what they have.

Painting Program Many property owners have made a detailed inspection of their property and have begun a systematic program of painting to prevent deterioration and rotting.

There has also been a sharp increase in interior decorating throughout the county.

Some observers believe that the pleasure-driving ban has been a stimulus for these improvements in addition to the general response of the Government to keep property in good repair. Many householders have had more time at home to do much of their own work.

As an incentive for further property conservation Adams county merchants present a variety of advertisements announcing many paint features for Adams county residents interested in preserving their property.

IT'S PATRIOTIC TO PROTECT WITH

PAINT

If the paint is chipped or cracked it should be removed with paint or varnish remover. Brush on the remover generously, let stand a few minutes to soften. Very heavy old coatings may require several applications. When paint is very soft it can be removed with a putty knife or similar object. After all of the paint is removed wash with turpentine to remove any trace of the remover before painting.

If the paint is not chipped or cracked a strong solution of a good cleaning compound will remove all the grease and dirt and some of the shine of the old paint. Dry and rub uniformly dry with 00 sandpaper. Be sure that all greases and waxes are removed before applying the new finish by rubbing with turpentine. The article is now ready for finishing and the new paint should be applied according to the manufacturers specification.

TEACHERS GET BOOST IN FALL

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Groundwork plans for initial distribution of $24,300,000 in cost-of-living pay increases to 61,000 Pennsylvania teachers were disclosed today by the Department of Public Instruction although first payments still are several months away.

Although the increases become effective July 1, J. Hugh Henderson, business advisor for the department, explained "school districts will start paying the bonus when terms open next fall." He added local boards will be reimbursed for these payments "by the commonwealth sometime before July of 1944."

Monthly Payments Reports will be made about November 1 by school districts giving basic information needed to allocate the salary increases and the data will be used to apportion state funds.

Teachers paid for a nine-month school term will receive one-ninth of their annual share of the bonus each month in the school year.

The 1943 Legislature approved, and Governor Martin signed into law, a bill giving teachers salary increases of from $200 to $600 for the school years of 1943-1944 and 1944-1945. Teachers in the lower income brackets will get the larger bonuses.

The red fox is also colored silver, black and yellow.

Select Good Brush For Good Painting

For exterior house painting and walls, select a good four inch stucco or wall brush. Such a brush holds plenty of paint and spreads it evenly. The bristles should be long, flexible and firmly set in rubber or cement. A one and a half inch "sash tool" is best suited for painting sash. It reaches into the corners and spreads the paint evenly along the narrow sash.

For floors use a good quality three inch varnish brush with a chisel edge.

For enameling or varnishing woodwork or similar surfaces, choose a good grade of varnish brush, two and a half inches wide with a chisel edge.

For enamel or varnish work on furniture, select a good quality varnish brush, one and a half inches or two inches wide with a chisel edge. A pencil brush is very handy for small turnings, striping and trimming.

Before using a new brush, remove all dust and loose particles by bending the bristles backwards and letting them "flit" through the fingers several times.

To stimulate the scalp and promote growth of the hair, rub the brush against your scalp in a rotary movement.

SPUD FAMINE TEMPORARILY EASED, HORST

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Miles Horst, secretary of Agriculture, assured Pennsylvania housewives today they "soon should be able to get all the potatoes they want—at least for a temporary period."

Declaring "a short period of plenty" now seems certain, Horst asserted, "shipments from southern states have been coming in such quantities for the past couple weeks as to bring relief from the potato famine." He said limited digging of early varieties in southeastern Pennsylvania will begin in about three weeks.

Horst, himself a Lebanon county farmer, stated, however, that "there is no way of telling now what potato supply conditions will be next fall and winter." He added "much depends upon weather conditions during the summer and early fall—a continuous period of hot weather then might increase damage through blight and greatly reduce potato yields."

Late Planting

Discussing the shortage of recent weeks, the secretary said in a statement: "Due to late planting, early potatoes from the deep southern states did not arrive in the north on schedule this year. There was a scarcity of adequate shipping facilities and shipments were delayed with some spoilage reported."

Promising well for the future, Horst added, is the fact that deep southern harvest seasons will overlap those of Virginia, Maryland and New Jersey. Crops from the latter states will reach the market at about the same time potatoes are being harvested in southeastern Pennsylvania.

"I've painted hundreds of homes. And I know that when you use LOWE BROTHERS HIGH STANDARD House Paint, your house is painted to stay painted. HIGH STANDARD is economical paint."

"I find that HIGH STANDARD outlasts ordinary paint two and three years... and so the average per-year cost for protection is much lower. "Another thing I like is the Lowe Brothers Pictorial Color Chart. It shows the right color schemes for many types of homes and every kind of room... in pictures painted with actual paint. It makes choosing color schemes easy for the home owner."

Before YOU paint, come in and consult the Lowe Brothers Pictorial Color Chart. There is no obligation.

WOULD CONTINUE OWI NEWSROOM

Washington, June 25 (AP)—A compromise leaving intact the "news room" of the Office of War Information (OWI), but shearing it of its domestic and foreign propaganda activities, was reported under discussion today by members of the Senate Appropriations committee.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), a committee member and former newspaper reporter, said he personally favors such a compromise, which might involve transfer of the agency's foreign section to the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

In approving the $2,939,000,000 war agencies appropriations bill, the House allowed $28,972,000 for OWI's foreign propaganda program but cut out all of the $5,500,000 proposed for financing its domestic work.

While there has been opposition within the Senate committee to some OWI policies under Director Elmer Davis, the recent appointment of Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Portland Oregonian, as chief of the domestic bureau was said to have allayed some Republican criticism.

Lodge said he felt there might be a need for OWI in assembling and coordinating information from various government agencies, making that information readily available to the press and radio.

Negro To Get New Murder Trial

Trenton, N. J., June 25 (AP)—John Swan, the negro under death sentence for the murder of 20-year-old Marian Oliver in the New Brunswick opera house last October, will get a new trial.

The court of errors and appeals reversed his conviction yesterday, ruling that the judge's charge at the end of the trial in Middlesex county court of over and terminer "transcended the bounds of proper conduct" and was "practically a direction of a guilty verdict."

Proper Mixing Is Asset To Painting

The best and easiest way to mix paint and enamel is to pour the top liquid into a clean container. With a wood paddle, stir the remaining portion to a smooth, soft paste. Slowly pour back the liquid, stirring continuously. Now "box" the mixed material by pouring it from one container to the other four or five times.

Pilot lights or any open flame should be turned off before opening a can of paint. When a job is finished, or at the end of each day burn all clothes, rags or paper that have been moistened or saturated with paint, varnish or turpentine.

Fix Dates For Xmas Mailing Overseas

Washington, June 25 (AP)—In the air conditioned Postoffice department building, even a June hot spell does not preclude thoughts of Christmas. Wherefore the department announced today that Christmas gifts for Army personnel overseas must be mailed between September 15 and October 15 to assure delivery on time.

The dates for gifts to Navy personnel overseas were fixed at September 15 to November 1.

Alimony Taxable Under New U.S. Law

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Congressional tax authorities discovered today the pay-as-you-go income tax law has put the nation's alimony payers on a compulsory savings plan. The law makes no provision for an adjustment of the 20 per cent withholding levy, on account of alimony payments, although the alimony is deductible in computing actual income tax at the year end.

An ex-wife would be liable for income tax on alimony paid her.

LOSER TAKE ALL

By Adelaide Hazeltine

Chapter 19

Bert made his call and took Ann to a little roadside inn for lunch. They didn't talk about love or wills or Terrence House. In fact they hardly talked at all.

When he left her at the hotel in mid afternoon he said, smiling crookedly, "I'm still placing that long shot."

She answered with a toss of her head and ran up the steps to find three messages from Mrs. Morgan reminding her of the dedication tomorrow at 1:30.

She dressed carefully the next day, anxious to look her best for an occasion she dreaded.

She slipped into her flesh pink jacket frock, added an off-the-face black hat with matching gloves and pumps. When Sarah called to say the car was ready she hurried through the hall to the front door.

Then she stopped abruptly. Jerry Lane offered her his arm.

She brushed past him, went quickly down the steps. But he followed even so far as to climb into the seat beside her and tell the driver to go ahead.

"I think you've made a mistake. This car was sent for me," she said. "And for me," he corrected. "Much as it grieves me to force my presence on you, Mrs. Morgan insisted we come together. I didn't have the heart to explain we commanded opposing factions."

"But... why would she want you?"

"Simple, Watson." He smiled the smile that went all over his face. The smile that had first turned her heart to a pulp of indecision. "Someone mentioned to her that we were having a little argument over the inheritance. She wanted to be sure to get the right heir."

"If I'd known!"

"You would have refused to come. I anticipated that. So I let it be a surprise to you."

"I don't like surprises."

"I gathered that. Well," he waved his hand in the general direction of a mob of people, "here we are!"

The crowd was assembled in front of the hospital and she had no choice but to let him guide her through it to the platform and an effusive Mrs. Morgan.

"Oh, how nice of you both. We are so happy to have you with us. Right this way, please, right this way. I have seats reserved for you."

And she did have. Side by side in the middle of the speaker's platform. To the right of the American flag and to the left of a conspicuously draped easel.

Ann wondered what the easel held and supposed it was the personal touch Bert mentioned. She was afraid to guess just what coup d'etat Mrs. Morgan held in store for them.

The band played the national anthem. Jerry touched her arm to remind her to stand. Automatically her lips formed the familiar, stirring words but her heart thumped dully, out of tune.

It would have been trying enough to have to sit through the eulogies for her grandmother without having to do so with a man she couldn't face.

The speeches began. The speeches and the prayers, fine, glowing tributes to a woman who had given so generously of all she had to make Radville a better place in which to live. A woman who had set a standard it would behoove all coming generations to emulate. A woman who—Ann couldn't listen to another one. What would these people think when they heard the truth about the fake spring?

"And now," Mrs. Morgan lifted her voice in a final spasm of elation, "now we come to the surprise of the dedication. The unveiling!"

She paused. "I'm going to ask the one most worthy of the honor, the granddaughter of our beloved benefactor, to come forward and unveil the picture!" She came to an impressive stop and turned to Ann.

"That's you," Jerry nudged the girl at his side. "She wants you to go up there."

Dazed, Ann rose, prayed that her knees would hold her as she walked to the shrouded easel.

The audience clapped tentatively and subsided. Ann touched the grey cloth.

"In renaming the hospital for Augusta Terrence," Mrs. Morgan continued, "the board of directors thought nothing would be more in keeping with the occasion than a portrait of our dear friend to hang in the entrance hall. We asked one of the finest artists in this part of the country to make an oil of her. This he did by using a photograph for a model. Now Miss Ann Harrington will show it to you!"

Rooster's Spurs Kill Little Boy

Emporium, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Dr. W. H. Bush, Cameron county coroner, said a wound from a rooster's spur killed two-and-a-half-year-old Robert Priest of Clear Creek Valley, near Emporium.

The rooster attacked the boy in the yard of his home. The bird's inch-and-a-half spur penetrated the child's skull over the right ear, causing a fatal injury to the brain.

Largest Milk Pool For May

New York, June 25 (AP)—A $20-166,113.21 milk pool—largest on record—will be shared by 54,268 dairy farmers in the six-state New York milkshed for May deliveries, according to Dr. C. J. Blanford, Milk Marketing administrator.

Blanford said yesterday that the total surpassed the previous top value in May, 1942, by $2,393,806.83. The difference, he said, was equivalent to an average $45 gain per farmer.

THE LAST WORD

SEEK TO LIFT AUTO USE TAX IN THIS AREA

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Senator Mead (D-NY) today labeled the annual $5 use tax on automobiles a "pay-as-you-don't-go-plan," at least for eastern motorists, and said he would ask the Treasury to withhold enforcement until Congress decides whether the levy should be repealed.

The new stickers are supposed to be on the windshields of all cars and trucks operated after next Wednesday, but the postal employees entrusted with their sale have decided that the only way to start them moving would be to ration them, like shoes. In other words, business has not been good.

Guffey Wants Tax

Several eastern lawmakers agreed with Mead that taxation without transportation is going to be pretty hard to explain to their foot weary constituents. The value of gasoline ration coupons is smaller in the east than in other parts of the country, and in the seaboard states from Virginia north all pleasure driving is forbidden.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass) said he had received complaints from a number of drivers and would support a repeal move, but Senator Guffey (D-Pa) said he would vote to keep the tax in effect.

"We need the revenue and we've got to get it where it is," Guffey said. "The man who owns a car can afford to pay a $5 tax. It may not be just, but there is no justice in taxation."

Laundries Now Limiting Bundles

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Most Philadelphia laundries today were limiting customers to one bundle of wash each three weeks.

Irving M. Morris, director of the Mutual Laundry Owners' association, said that unless the establishments find a way to meet the growing manpower shortage service may be further reduced.

Morris said "drastic curtailments" also were being made in service to army camps and war plants.

JUVENILE SOLUTION

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Some of the 38 city-operated swimming pools may remain closed for want of life guards but the youngsters have an answer to that. They kept police cars racing yesterday by opening firehoses and dancing around in the cold spray.

CAMP STARTS ITS 15TH YEAR; FULL SCHEDULE

Camp Nawakwa, the Lutheran Leadership Training camp in the mountains above Arendtsville, opened its fifteenth season with the annual alumni reunion week-end which was attended by approximately 50 former campers.

The opening meeting, held at the "Hillside" last Friday evening, was addressed by the camp director, the Rev. Marshall Breneman, of Gettysburg. Saturday evening, Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, of the faculty of Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, addressed the group at the same place. The Rev. Dr. Harry F. Baughman, also of the seminary faculty, was the speaker at the Sunday morning service.

A course in counseling was presented over the week-end by the assistant camp director, Miss Lavene Grove. The Rev. Mr. Breneman presented a course in Bible study and Miss Viola Deatrick conducted classes in "Christ in the Fine Arts." Meetings for the week-end were in charge of the Rev. John D. Foerster, Stoyetown, president of the alumni group.

Summer Schedule

With the arrival Monday of Camp Intermediate girls, the camp embarked upon its summer schedule which will include all of the groups of former years. The senior boys' group will be curtailed because of war conditions and for that reason the camping period for these boys will be held simultaneously with that of the intermediate boys.

The schedule for the summer is as follows: Camp 1, intermediate girls, June 21 to June 28; Camp 2, intermediate girls, June 28 to July 5; junior girls, July 5 to 12; junior boys, July 12 to 19; Camp 1, intermediate boys, July 19 to 26; Camp 2, intermediate boys, senior boys and young men, July 26 to August 2; senior girls, August 3 to 16; leadership training school from August 23 to 30.

Local Residents on Staff

During the week beginning August 16, the school will, as in former years, conduct a Daily Vacation Bible school at Arendtsville.

Serving on the faculty during the season will be: Stanley Newcomer, Williamsport, and Thomas Knepp, of Stroudsburg, who will teach Nature subjects; Dr. J. Harold Mumper, Washington, D. C., and the Rev. Robert Fischer, Gettysburg, who will teach Bible; Miss Isabelle Hoover, Carlisle, and Miss Martha Laird, Towanda, who will teach Christian Living; Miss Sara Margaret Grove, Harrisburg, who will be recreation leader for the girls will be assisted by Miss Anna B. Wood, also of Harrisburg; Miss Catharine Rohrbaugh, Hanover, will be the resident nurse during the early part boys will be directed by Musser White, of Harrisburg.

Miss Jeanette Spangler, Gettysburg, and Miss Florence Reitz, Selinsgrove, will serve as secretaries.

County Girls in Camp

Counselors for the incoming capacity camp of 200 girls will include Mrs. Lenore Speef, of Philadelphia, and the Misses Sally Spotts, Mary Louise Cronin, of Wynnewood; Lois Given, Eleanor Plath and Janet Greenfield, York; Mary Jane Opycke, Rosanna Woolger, Ruth Dutton, Hope Griffith and Irma Siebel, Washington, D. C.; Virginia Eschbach, Milton, Mabert Benner, Fairfield; Alice Allen, Scotland; Elizabeth Weiss and Janet Behnauer, Steelton; Evangeline Guss, Pottsville; Jane Anne Dupin, Youngstown; Marian Kauffman, Compton; Miriam Huber, Lititz; Evelyn Stahl, Somerset; Betty Cuthsall, Woodboro, Maryland; Anne McAllister and Doris Keller, Baltimore, and Jane Berkebile, of Hooersville.

Robert Young, Gettysburg, will be the chef the entire summer.

Girls from the county in camp with the intermediate girls include Jean Garretson and Evelyn Jane Guise, Arendtsville; Patricia Garretson, Aspers; Janet Gindelsperger, Audrey Groff, Mary Alice Imhoff and Doris Landis, East Berlin; Ardis Jones, Barbara Keller and Joyce Kuhn, Bendersville; Dorothy Ray, Biglerville; Helen Myers, Anne Raf-fensperger, Emma Scott, Marian Schultze, Jeanne Waltemyer and Elaine Young, of Gettysburg.

FIREMEN END DRIVE FRIDAY

Approximately $400 has been received so far by fire company solicitors in their "give cash instead of foodstuffs" drive to raise money by solicitation to replace the annual Fireman's bazaar and carnival called off this year because of war-time conditions.

The firemen are visiting every home in town in an effort to have community residents give an equivalent in cash for what they would have given in foodstuffs if the bazaar was being held.

Members of the fire company were on duty every night this week at the engine house to receive the contributions as they are turned in by solicitors. It was stated.

The drive will close this evening at 9 o'clock with an award of prizes at the engine house.

Tax Credit If It Is Paid By June 30

Delinquent Pennsylvania employers still can save a ninety per cent federal penalty charge on their 1942 unemployment tax providing they make payment before midnight June 30, according to the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation.

Full credit is granted against the Federal excise tax if employer contributions are paid prior to February first. Delinquent contributors who file before July 1 are permitted 90 per cent credit. Those who fail to make payment before that date are required to pay the full tax to the federal government at the 3 per cent rate in addition to the normal 2.7 per cent contribution to the state fund plus interest. It was further pointed out by the bureau that only employers of eight or more workers are subject to this federal excise levy.

Blackout

on lights in their homes in order to dress quickly before answering the alarm.

So realistic was the test, the first sprung by the army, that a number of persons were fearful it was a real raid after they had discovered that the test was in progress.

For the most part, lights were out and kept out during the test.

Early rising defense workers found the test troublesome for them, when they had to dress in complete darkness and could not leave their homes at usual starting times.

Tests at Unusual Hours

The air raid alert came earlier in the morning than any previous test, the Associated Press pointed out in a round up account of the test which covered the entire state.

"We wanted to find out whether our communication system works when everybody is asleep," declared Col. Lynn G. Adams, chief of protective services of the state Defense Council at Harrisburg, as he awaited reports of the test.

"The program calls for drills at different hours in order to reach all groups, including those going to work and returning at unusual times."

Adams also explained that dawn has been the favorite time for enemy planes to strike.

First Complete Surprise

The Army's civil air raid warning system—black boxes strung in 57 different places in the state—was used for the first time in handling the warning.

"In Philadelphia, some street lights, some neon signs and a few lights in houses were not extinguished but Judge Vincent A. Carroll, of the Civilian Protection Corps, said the response was as nearly perfect as we can expect."

"The test was sprung secretly, with the suddenness of an actual enemy attack."

Confusion in Phila.

"It was the first test in which there was absolutely no advance leak," Judge Harry S. McDevitt, director of the Philadelphia Council of Defense, reported.

"Other tests have been complete surprises to the rank and file of the Civilian Defense Corps, but heretofore the state council at Harrisburg has been notified of approaching tests. This time there was no notification whatsoever."

Confusion spread in mid-city Philadelphia when city hall sirens began sounding the first blue with the rise and fall of a red signal.

LIONS VOTE $50 FOR HONOR ROLL

Eleven members of the Gettysburg Lions club were awarded 100 per cent attendance pins Monday evening at the weekly dinner session of the local service club at which a $50 donation was voted toward the cost of erecting the Service Honor Roll in center square and $5 to the local committee on colored church work.

The Lions receiving the special attendance awards, issued by Lions International for the attendance period from September to May, included President William A. Beals, now on active duty with the U. S. Navy. The others who received awards were Lions L. C. Keefeauver, D. E. Hess, A. E. Hutchison, Ralph Z. Oyley, G. W. Lefever, Hugh C. McIlhenny, Dr. R. D. Wickerham, Clarence J. Waybright, Milton R. Remmel and J. Herbert Weikert.

Recently elected officers will be installed by the club at the meeting next Monday evening.

York Church Given Federal Funds For Children's Nursery

Notification of presidential approval of a federal contribution of $5,187 to assist St. Patrick's church, York, in the cost of operation and maintenance of child care facilities for the children of working mothers, was received today by Regional Director John M. Gallagher of the Federal Works Agency from Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator.

The project will provide for war nursery care for 55 pre-school children, extended school facilities for 25 children of school age and overnight care for 12 children for the period from June 1 to November 30.

J. E. SNYDER IS INSTALLED AS STATE SUV HEAD

Jesse E. Snyder, past commander of the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil war and a past senior vice commander of the SUV in Pennsylvania, was elected unanimously to the office of department commander of the SUV at the annual convention in York, June 17.

He and the other members of the official staff to serve the state organization for the coming year were installed by Frank Heacock, Media, the retiring department commander.

The other officers include: Department senior vice commander, Frank M. Moore, York; junior vice commander, John E. Hill, Johnstown.

After his installation, one of the first acts of the new commander was the filling of a number of appointive posts.

Honored in '41

Commander Snyder named W. Preston Hull, Gettysburg, as his personal aide; patriotic instructor, John Ruggles, Carlisle; department councillor, Jacob Wentzell, Uniontown; chaplain, the Rev. Luther B. Hafer, Taneytown, Md., a member of the Gettysburg camp; chairman of the military committee, J. P. Steiger, Philadelphia, and acting inspecting officer, Robert Smyser, York.

Major O. G. MacPherson, Gettysburg, was appointed chief of staff of the Sons of Veterans Reserves until an election can be held to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Col. Edwin John Prittie of Philadelphia.

Mr. Snyder, who attended all of the department sessions at York this week, was elected as senior vice commander of the state organization at the close of the annual convention held in Gettysburg in June, 1941. That office was an honor extended to him in recognition of his services as chairman of the local convention committees.

BUG CAUSE OF AUTO MISHAP

A bug, flying into the car of John Q. Mask, Plymouth, Pa., about 10 o'clock last Friday evening caused an accident in which Mask's mother was injured and $100 damage caused to the two cars involved, according to Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., who investigated.

Mask was driving west on West Middle street when the bug flew into the car. Mask struck at the bug, Culp said, knocking it onto his mother. He then tried to grab the bug and in doing so pulled his car to the right striking the left rear of a car owned by Chester A. Shriver, Gettysburg R. 1, parked near the intersection of West Middle street and Ridge avenue.

Mrs. Mask was treated for lacerations of the face and forehead. No charges were laid.

Legion Cancels Two Meetings

The second meeting of the month will be cancelled during July and August, the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion decided at its regular meeting Monday evening.

During that period only the regular meetings on the first Mondays of the months will be held. Commander C. Arthur Brame presided with 25 members present.

Irishtown Buys New Fire Siren

The Irishtown fire company, by public subscription in a house-to-house canvass of that community, and with the aid of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the company, has purchased a fire alarm siren from the Federal Electric company, Chicago, Ill. to be used for fire alarms and air raid signals.

The initial test took place Tuesday evening at 9 p. m. Thereafter the siren will be tested every Saturday at 12:05 p. m.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Moran, Union Bridge, Maryland, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital last Friday evening.

Detroit Rioters Chase Negro

A group of white men is shown pursuing a negro (extreme right) across Woodward ave., Detroit, Michigan's main thoroughfare, in one of a series of disturbances that started on the Belle Isle bridge, spread to the city's big negro district and then sporadically to Woodward avenue.

WAR COMMITTEE IS ORGANIZED AT EMMITSBURG

The community meeting leading to the complete organization of the Emmitsburg War Recreation committee was called to order by Burgess Joseph R. Hoke June 17 at the American Legion hall. The meeting was well attended. Following the singing of the national anthem, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Robert G. Fite, general chairman.

Naval Lt. James Wolfe gave a short talk expressing his appreciation of the efforts on the part of the American Legion members in providing Saturday night dances for the air cadets. He stated that 130 cadets were now at St. Mary's college and commencing July 1 the number would be increased to between 350 and 400.

Mrs. Robert G. Fite will continue as permanent general chairman. Legion Commander Allen Rosensteel as vice chairman, Miss Hilda Topper as secretary, Guy Nunemaker as chairman of the finance committee, and Lt. James Wolfe will lend assistance as executive chairman.

Committees Chosen

The hostess committee includes Mrs. Harry Boyle, Mrs. Cooley Combs, Mrs. Harry Hull, Mrs. Robert Gillelan. The entertainment committee includes Mrs. Frank Shuff, Mrs. George Paxson, Mrs. Guy Baker, Mrs. Cadie, Mrs. Stinson, Miss Helen Higbee and Miss Dorothy Nester.

American Legion dances will be held each Saturday night as before until July 10 when the spring dance of the Emmitsburg War Recreation committee will be held at the American Legion hall. The principal entertainment for the cadets will be dancing, picnics and invitations to homes of the local people.

The American Legion will hold its regular meeting on July 6 when the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Seek Workers For Jobs In Shipyards

The third United States Civil Service region is seeking Adams county men to serve as skilled or unskilled workers in navy yards on the west coast and in Hawaii.

According to an announcement by Leonard M. Brockman, United States Civil Service representative at the Gettysburg employment service office, the openings are at Mare Island, California, Puget Sound, Washington and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Brockman announced that the men will work on ships. Transportation to the navy yards is paid by the government and both family or dormitory type living quarters may be reserved in advance at the west coast yards.

Age limits for men helper and laborer positions have been reduced to 16 years. Workers may apply to the United States Employment Service office, York street, today and Saturday, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

TUESDAY WAS HOTTEST DAY

The weather man handed out a little cooler temperature Wednesday after putting across a sizzling 95° Tuesday at Arendtsville—the hottest temperature recorded so far this year, according to the records at the Arendtsville laboratories.

Tuesday's record breaker reached 92 degrees by 1 p. m., by 3 p. m. the peak of 95 degrees was reached.

Wednesday's temperatures were lower throughout the morning while the reading at 1 p. m. was 3 degrees cooler than Tuesday with the mercury standing at 89 degrees.

Tuesday's official high in Gettysburg was 92 degrees.

17 Countians Get Tire Certificates

The Gettysburg War Price and Rationing Board has granted tire certificates to the following:

Charles E. Huff, Vernon G. Spence, Arthur A. Maust, Ralph E. Rice, Sr., Harold T. McElroy, Raymond E. Deardorff, C. G. Hilty, Cassian J. Andrews, S. E. Johnson, B. W. Spence, Robert G. Martin, Charles D. Baird, James W. Fische, Dale A. Bricker, Paul O. Diehl, Mrs. Sarah Minter and F. H. Deland.

PLAYGROUND IS OPENED MONDAY

While summer did not begin officially until shortly after 3 o'clock this morning approximately 300 youngsters got the jump on the summer season Monday by crowding into the playground at the high school grounds for opening day.

With Supervisor Fred P. Haehnel and his associate, Miss Arlene Plank, in charge, the youngsters came early Monday morning to "officially" open the grounds and try out the new Jungle Jim and new slide set up for this year's activities.

The Jungle Jim proved most popular of all equipment with youngsters swarming all over the interlocking metal pipes which allow them to climb to a height of about five feet without danger.

Classes in handicraft were expected to get underway soon with the Recreation board having purchased large supplies of handicraft materials from which the youngsters can make various articles.

The 100 youngsters there Monday morning were followed by another hundred in the afternoon and an equal number Monday evening.

No formal opening exercises were staged. About 25 kiddies were present before the supervisors arrived 20 minutes ahead of time.

NEW INDUSTRY IS COMING HERE

Two industries long considered lost in Adams county—the making of hand looms and hand weaving—will be restored next month by Mr. and Mrs. Milo Gallinger, Hartland, Michigan, who will occupy "Loma Vista," the estate near Guernsey sold the couple by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Benson.

Mrs. Gallinger publishes a monthly magazine, "Craft Creation," giving details of how to weave various articles after the fashion of early Americans and conducts the "National Conference of American Handweavers," to be held this year at the Hotel Webster Hall, Pittsburgh. In succeeding years the conference will probably be held in Gettysburg, according to the Gallingers.

Mr. Gallinger is a manufacturer of looms for weaving and has purchased the Harry Rouzer farm near "Loma Vista" for a factory in which to produce the looms and similar weaving equipment.

Mrs. Gallinger also publishes "The Shuttle Service" and conducts a correspondence course in home weaving. The couple plans to conduct classes in weaving, spinning, fabric darning, lace making and basketry.

Announce Course For Dairy Testers

County Agent M. T. Hartman has announced that a special two weeks' course for training prospective testers for cow testing association work will be held at State College, July 7 to July 21.

C. R. Gearhart, dairy extension specialist, reports that there are a number of associations in the state without the services of testers, and he is hopeful that a sufficient number of testers will be graduated from the course to supply this demand.

Any man or woman who has had practical dairy experience and who has had the equivalent of a high school education is eligible to enroll.

DR. M'ALLISTER, RETIRED HEAD OF SEMINARY, HERE

Dr. James A. McAllister, 70, a native of Gettysburg and alumnus of Gettysburg college in the class of 1898, has retired as president of the Evangelical Seminary at Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, after serving for 41 years on that island as a missionary of the Presbyterian church.

He and Mrs. McAllister came to the United States by air recently and have arrived in Gettysburg where they expect to spend the summer months.

After graduating from the college here in 1898, Dr. McAllister received his master's degree in 1901 and in 1922 his Alma Mater conferred the degree of doctor of divinity. He is a member of the ATO fraternity. In 1907 he received the M.A. degree from Princeton university and in 1910 was graduated from Princeton Theological seminary.

He first went to Puerto Rico as a Presbyterian missionary in 1901, serving at Isabella from 1901 to 1906 and then going to Mayaguez. From 1912 to 1919 he was president of the International seminary in Puerto Rico and since that time headed the Evangelical seminary.

His wife is the former Miss Effie Anderson of Buffalo, New York. They have two sons, David Theodore and James Franklin.

They are residing at 30 East High street.

FORMAL DANCE NEXT SATURDAY

The first formal dance since the USO started sponsoring dances for service men will be held Saturday evening from 8:30 to 11:45 o'clock, it was announced.

The formal dance will be under the direction of a committee of Sororists headed by Mrs. Clyde D. Berger. The dance will be open to all members of the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college, the Naval Air Cadets at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg and all service men and women on leave in Adams county.

County and Gettysburg girls will act as hostesses. The procedure of not sending invitation cards to girls on the USO lists adopted last time will be continued for this dance, it was stated. The hostesses obtain admission cards by calling at the YWCA where a member of the USO advisory committee will be present Monday through Thursday from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m., on Friday from 4 to 6 p. m., and on Saturday from 4 to 6 p. m. "Bill" Jones' orchestra will play for the affair scheduled to be held in the college gymnasium.

The identification requirement is printed on the back of the check as follows:

"When this check is presented by payee, identification shall be, by presentation of the card, issued by the Federal Social Security Board, bearing the social security number on the face of this check."

Another new requirement is that the check must be endorsed in ink or indelible pencil; and the spelling shall be the same as on the face of the check.

Richard C. Warren Purchases Garages

Richard C. Warren, manager of Warren Chevrolet Sales, has purchased the Warren company (including two garages, here and at Arendtsville) from the estate of his father the late J. M. Warren, according to an advertisement in Monday's issue of The Gettysburg Times.

Mr. Warren had been employed by his father for the last ten years. The late Mr. Warren established the company over 25 years ago. All of the company's previous policies will be kept in effect, according to the advertisement.

OPA ANNOUNCES NEW RULINGS ON GASOLINE USAGE

It's okay to drive to and from your summer residence from your place of work, according to an announcement from the local War Price and Rationing board office today—providing you don't use more gas in going from your summer home to your place of work than you use in going from your permanent residence to your place of work.

That regulation is included among others explained in today's announcement on travel to summer homes, intended to answer many questions on that topic being received daily at the ration board office.

The rule cited above applies only to motorists who now hold "B" or "C" rations. A person who holds an "A" ration only is not entitled to a "B" or "C" ration for the purpose of going to and from his summer home to his place of work.

The announcement states further: "A special ration of gasoline may not be issued to an applicant for travel to or from a summer home, even though such home is maintained for a large part of the year, since such travel is not considered a bona fide change of the regular place of residence of the applicant."

"The search for a change of climate—even for reasons of health—will not justify a special ration of gasoline, according to the OPA rules, 'since such travel is not considered travel to obtain therapeutic treatment.'"

Should Get Stickers

The summer driving regulations are set forth in amendments No. 42 and 43 to the gasoline rationing regulations.

The Harrisburg district office of the OPA recently announced that the only permissible trip to a summer home is where there is proof that it is necessary to close it for the season "in order to prevent imminent damage to property and where there is no alternative means of transportation."

The office again urged persons holding "B" or "C" rations of gasoline to secure the corresponding windshield sticker at the board office in order to avoid the risk of not having their ration books honored. A supply of the stickers is on hand at the board office.

A new OPA announcement says that persons living within two miles of their place of employment are not entitled to supplemental rations, unless they are physically handicapped or must carry heavy equipment.

CANNOT FORGE STATE CHECKS

Greater protection against forgery is provided in a new series of checks used for payment of Unemployment Compensation benefits, G. Harold Wagner, state treasurer, announced Saturday.

In cashing the new checks the payees are required to show their social security card. This card must bear the same social security number as that appearing on the face of the check, to protect the beneficiary and also banks, merchants and others cashing such checks, against loss by forgery.

The identification requirement is printed on the back of the check as follows:

"When this check is presented by payee, identification shall be, by presentation of the card, issued by the Federal Social Security Board, bearing the social security number on the face of this check."

Another new requirement is that the check must be endorsed in ink or indelible pencil; and the spelling shall be the same as on the face of the check.

Minister's Son To Enter West Point

George E. Sheffer, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford, who was inducted into the Army on May 21, has received his honorable discharge in order to enter the United States Military academy on July 1.

Young Sheffer, who is spending the intervening time with his parents, joined the Reserves during his Freshman year at Gettysburg college, which he entered following his graduation from the New Oxford high school in 1942. After his induction he was stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia.

RUSSIA AND U.S. MOVING TOWARD SIMILAR GOALS

"Russia and the United States are moving in opposite directions toward some middle ground in between," Prof. Dunning Idle, of the Gettysburg college faculty, told the local Rotarians Monday evening in a talk on "Russia and Socialism."

"Russia is moving toward a democratic ideal that is not too different from ours, while we are moving in the opposite direction toward some form of collectivism," Prof. Idle declared to the 32 Rotarians and guests present for the weekly dinner meeting held at the YWCA.

"Russia has a long way to go to reach its democratic ideal. Economically it has made remarkable strides, but in the political phase it has not progressed too far."

"There is confusion in our ideas of socialism and communism. A fundamental idea of socialism is public ownership of the means of production and distribution while Communism holds for collective ownership of all property, real and personal. Communism would reach its aims by revolution while socialism would reach approximately the same goals by lawful, peaceful means."

"Karl Marx, father of all modern socialism had five basic principles for his reasoning, an economic interpretation of history, class struggle, the idea of surplus value, which he called all value on an article above that which the laborer receives for making the article and the inevitability of socialism and internationalism."

"We call communists anarchists but the two ideas are directly opposed. An anarchist is opposed to all forms of government while the communist wishes to concentrate all power in government."

Lenin was Marx's most successful disciple. Idle told the group. "Lenin added to Marxism only the idea that the working class revolution could happen in one country, Russia, which he felt was the weakest link in capitalism. He smashed the old state and set up a 'Dictatorship of the Proletariat.'"

"This dictatorship of the proletariat was to be a transitional state preparing the way for the utopia of the working class. Unfortunately Lenin did not know what this utopia was like—he left that to be worked out later. Stalin has added little to the doctrine of socialism. Lenin died before his ideas were proved impractical, and Stalin, as hard a man as one could find, forgot the idea of world revolution and set about bettering the lot of the peasants. His prime opponent, Trotsky, held for world revolution in our time and aid for urban workers."

"The dissolution of the Third Internationale recently was a triumph for Stalin," Prof. Idle declared. "Stalin was long since convinced that world revolution was not workable but it would have been too embarrassing for him to throw out the world revolution idea before he had an excellent opportunity to do so. As an example of how much Stalin liked the Third Internationale, he placed the president of it in jail and finally executed him after a long struggle in which the Internationale president was either

SENATORS AND YANKS DIVIDE TWO SHUTOUTS

By JUDSON BAILEY
The Associated Press

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals are supposed to be the only big league team in the big leagues this year, in the frank opinion of the best judges of baseball talent, and this strangely enough is paying high tribute to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cardinals are good; so good that they can keep players like Jimmy Brown and Johnny Hopp and Danny Littwhiler lolling on the bench. On the other hand the Dodgers are old and doddering, with doubtful pitching, a glaring infield gap and a confusing outfield.

Yet the standings recently show that this outfit of oldtimers, of whom only one regular is under 30 years of age, is just half a game out of first place in the National league and harassing the Cardinals every step of the way.

Drub Giants Twice

Currently they are on a six-game winning streak with five of these victories coming at the expense of the New York Giants, who lost both ends of a doubleheader Wednesday 7-2 and 6-0 and stumbled into the cellar.

In the first game Rube Melton pitched five-hit ball and in the second old Curt (Daniel Boone) Davis nearly treated the big week-day turnout of 27,547 paying customers to a no-hitter, going until two were out in the eighth inning before another veteran, Dick Bartell, tagged him for the Giants' first hit. Davis permitted another single in the ninth, but gave no walks.

The Cardinals were clipped by the Cincinnati Reds 8-3 with the St. Louis ace, Mort Cooper, getting charged with his fourth defeat after being belted off the mound by a three-run fourth inning.

Bucs, Cubs Split
At Chicago the Cubs divided a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates to move out of last place for the first time since early May. Claude Passeau pitched a five-hitter to win the first game 4-1, but the Pirates battled back to take the nightcap 7-5.

The Boston Braves nosed out the Philadelphia Phillies twice 1-0 and 4-3 in a pair of air-tight pitching struggles. In the opener Red Barrett gave five hits to four Boston made off Newt Kimball, but a single and a double were combined in the second inning for the game's lone run. Al Gerheuser and Al Javery wrestled for 11 innings in the afterpiece with Chuck Workman breaking it up with a single.

The American league also produced some dazzling pitching, not the least of which was in a night game at Philadelphia as the Boston Red Sox beat the A's 1-0 on a fourth-inning home run by Leon Culberson. Boston was held to four hits by Rookie Don Black while the A's made five scattered singles off Oscar Judd, who gave way to Mace Brown for the final out in the ninth. The contest was interrupted for an hour and five minutes by a practice blackout.

The New York Yankees and Washington Senators split a pair of shutouts to remain two game apart at the top of the standings. Milo Candini, the Senators' sensational rookie, achieved his seventh triumph without a defeat in the first game 8-0, allowing six hits and himself hitting a home run and double. His victim was Spud Chandler. Ernie (Jumbo) Bonham retaliated in the second game with a 4-0 blanking.

Troops at Game

Hal Newhouse limited the Cleveland Indians to five hits to win 3-1 in the first game of a doubleheader and then Cleveland captured the second 9-6 in 11 innings with a two run homer by Jeff Heath in the final frame spelling victory. The game was played in the presence of 5,210 paying customers and 350 troops who were on hand to prevent any new outbreak of Detroit's racial troubles.

The Chicago White Sox advanced into sixth place by trimming the St. Louis Browns 4-3 with bunched hits for a pair of two-run innings.

Reports On OPA Visits Unconfirmed

Reports that Gettysburg and Adams county motorists were stopped by OPA investigating agents and that some charges of alleged "flagrant" violations had been made, could not be confirmed by The Gettysburg Times today.

County War Price and Rationing Board Chairman Donald P. McPherson, Jr., could not be reached for comment on the matter while Chief of Police Glenn Guise, the rationing board office, the office of Sheriff Daniel J. Wolff, and state policemen said they knew nothing of any OPA agents being in town other than what they had heard from individuals who claimed that the agents were in Gettysburg Sunday evening.

York newspapers carried stories stating that 36 motorists had been charged by OPA officials at Caledonia and Gettysburg during the past few days in connection with reports of wholesale violations found in the York area. One York paper gave a specific number of alleged violations here as eight while another paper said only that "a few" violations were alleged in Gettysburg.

MILO CANDINI WINS SEVENTH WITH SORE ARM

By SID FEDER

New York, N. Y. (AP)—Some day Milo Candini's arm is going to get rid of its soreness—and then it's really going to be tough on American league batters.

Not that it's any picnic now, because at the moment, the Washington Senators' bargain buy is riding along on a string of 49-2-3 innings in which he's given up exactly four earned runs.

He hasn't been defeated yet this year and his latest job was a six-hitter against the Yankees Wednesday, for his seventh win. Yet, as the major league's leading elbow walked to the locker room, you could tell it wasn't that easy.

Nurses Sore Arm
"Yep," he grimaced, rubbing his working wing, "it's still sore. I can feel it after a game like that. Oh, it's better than it was, but it hurts now."

To which you might say, if it hurt him, think how it made the Yankees feel, especially since the Yankees practically gave him to the Nats and now the Senators are only two games away in the American league parade.

Winter before last, Candini blanked the Senators in a Grapefruit game. So, when the Nats brought Gerry Priddy from the New Yorkers last winter for Bill Zuber and $10,000, Clark Griffith—who is not called the diamond's old fox because of his appetite—asked Ed Barrow if he'd throw in the Candy Kid. Since Milo's "meat hook" had been sore most of 1942 at Newark, the Yankee prey tossed him into the pot with pleasure.

Amazes Schacht
Well, cousin Ed got his eye-opener yesterday. So did a lot of other baseball men. For instance, there was Al Schacht, a pitcher of sorts some years back.

"Just watch him now," Schacht said. "Watch how he mixes his stuff up. He keeps those batters guessing like an old hand. Look at him work on Lindell—there's the fast ball, then there comes the change of pace. Now, he gives him something with stuff on it. Oops—he whiffed on the curve. Why, that kid's almost as good as I was."

Files Two Charges After Accident

Chief of Police Guise, of Gettysburg, Tuesday laid two charges with first hand information on the facts of the case.

Guise arrested Paxton Redding, a resident of Gettysburg, for allowing an unlicensed operator to drive his car. At the same time Guise charged Mrs. Paxton Redding with driving without a license. Both charges were laid before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

The charges grew out of an auto accident in which Mrs. Redding collided with the chief's car June 15. Officer Guise said Mrs. Redding was driving on North Stratton street and attempted a turn into Water street. As she turned she hit the car of Abraham Staley and glancing off from that collision crashed into Guise's car, which was parked along the sidewalk at his house. Damage to all of the machines was small, Guise said.

Third Defendant Pays Air Raid Fine

Ernest Kranias, proprietor of a Chambersburg street restaurant, who was the third person to be charged with violating blackout regulations following Tuesday morning's air raid test, pleaded guilty Wednesday and paid a fine of $5 and costs.

Kranias was charged by Chief of Police Glenn Guise before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, with allowing a light to burn in his restaurant. The charge was laid at the direction of the Gettysburg Council of Defense.

Greg Rice Goes On Month's Cruise

New York, N. Y. (AP)—War which made the Gunder Haegge-Greg Rice meeting possible, has killed all chances for a second race this summer.

Rice, a chief specialist in the Maritime Service, has received orders to begin a month's cruise today which virtually precludes any possibility he will have a chance to avenge the 40-meter defeat he suffered Sunday in the 5,000 meter run at the National A.A.U. championships.

SEWELL'S 'HUMP BACK' SLOW BALL WINNING GAMES

Pittsburgh, Penna. (AP)—A "hump-back" slow ball, unlike anything seen in Forbes Field's 34-year history, has helped make Truett Banks (Rip) Sewell one of the leading major league pitchers this year.

Rip slips in the pitch with a windup exactly like his fast ball, but with a wrist snap that sends it 12 to 15 feet in the air, from where it floats downward at a steep angle, crossing the plate knee high.

When batters—particularly the Chicago Cubs who have lost four straight to Rip—try to smash the "hump-back" they usually pop up or hit into the ground. Big Frank McCormick was one exception, however twice pasting out doubles in the last series when the ball came in waist high.

Seeks 26 Games
"I'm out after 26 games this year and I think I can make it this time," Sewell says. He came to the Pirates in 1938, won ten the next year, then 16, 14 and 17 in order.

In winning eight and losing two so far, Sewell has hurled eight complete games of 12 he started, working 98½ frames. He allowed 96 hits and 29 earned runs for an average of 2.6 earned runs a game.

Sewell's fine mound work, along with that Bobby Klinger, Mr. "X" Resigno, Johnny Lanning—now en route to the Army—and the potent bats of Vince DiMaggio, Frankie Gustine, Elbie Fletcher and Bob Elliott have put the Bucs in third place in the National league.

OPERATORS ARE GIVEN AWARDS

Five employees of the Emmitsburg telephone exchange were presented with "Serving for Victory" emblems Tuesday at special exercises held to honor them for their efforts in rendering vital telephone service during the present war.

Burgess Joseph R. Hoke addressed the employees while A. B. Haneke, vice president and general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company of Baltimore, awarded the emblems.

The awards were given Miss Nellie Felix, Mrs. Anne Thompson, Miss Virginia Wagerman, Miss Marguerite Peters, and Edward E. Ridenour, Jr.

The presentations were made during a tour by Mr. Haneke of exchanges of the state. Accompanying him at Emmitsburg were M. C. Rose, general plant manager; N. E. Showalter, general traffic manager; R. K. Wheat, general service manager; Milton G. Hubbard, photographer; R. L. Schleunes, district commercial manager; C. J. Smith, district plant manager, and W. F. Johnson, district traffic manager.

Hanson Speaks At Service For Jewish Cadets

The regular weekly service for Jewish aviation students was held last Wednesday night in the SCA building on the college campus. Rabbi Philip Bookstaber, of Harrisburg, conducted the meeting at which 30 persons were present.

The guest of the evening was Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college and himself an ordained Lutheran minister. Doctor Hanson was escorted to the rostrum by Edwin Oppenheim, representing the Brotherhood of Temple Ohev Shalom, Harrisburg, and Irving Bierer, of Gettysburg.

In his address Doctor Hanson stressed the importance of each person believing in his own faith. He also invited the boys to bring him any of their "troubles or problems."

Donald R. Heiges, chaplain for the college arrived at the service in time for the Adoration and spoke briefly.

Miss Katherine Kohn, president of the Young Folks league, Harrisburg, brought several young ladies with her. Miss Kohn extended an "open house" invitation to the cadets any time they were in Harrisburg.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger, Taneytown, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital Tuesday morning.

A son was born Monday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Lupp, Idaville.

GROWING PAINS HIT PRO-GRID OFFICIALDOM

Chicago, Illinois (AP)—Officials of the National Football league, previously worried for fear the circuit would shrink, found themselves with growing pains after concluding their extra-inning meeting Monday.

Officials said that after the war pro football may no longer be a specialized sport, but may expand to such proportions that far western cities heretofore regarded as out-of-reach will find the game on their doorsteps.

This new frontier will be realized if the league, at its next session in December, votes to accept Don Ameche's franchise for Los Angeles. There also is a move to obtain a franchise for San Francisco.

Adopt 4-Game Schedule

With Boston already in, starting next year, and with Cleveland returning after the war when the new Philadelphia-Pittsburgh combine will separate, the league will have 11 members—six in its Eastern division and five in the west. The need for another western club is evident for balance, and Los Angeles, is the likely newcomer.

The last bit of business Monday was the adoption of a round-robin, 40-game schedule for the eight teams operating in 1943. The Chicago Cardinals and the Lions will open the season at Detroit September 19. The campaign will close December 5 after each club has played 10 games. New York, Washington, and Philadelphia-Pittsburgh were awarded six home contests. Four of the combine's games will be at Philadelphia and two at Pittsburgh.

STATE ENGINEER TO STUDY TIBER

Work needed to prevent recurrence of the recent flash floods by the Tiber were studied Tuesday by an engineer from the Department of Forests and Waters who went over the entire length of the stream with Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner in an effort to find some solution to the problem.

In a letter to Mr. Winebrenner, the Department of Forests and Waters said their engineer will be here Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. to begin his survey.

A complete report on the findings of the engineer will be presented to town council at its July 5 meeting. Mr. Winebrenner said Monday, and some members of council are considering asking that council tour the biers may see at first hand the stream during the early part of its July session in order that the improvements necessary to confine the stream to its bed during heavy rains and prevent the washing out of retaining walls and heavy damage such as that caused in recent floods.

Pending the report of the engineer no complete estimates could be made as to the cost of the work.

USO CONCERT HERE TODAY

A silver offering will be lifted at the concert to be presented in Brua chapel this evening at 8:30 o'clock for the benefit of the USO.

Those who will participate in the program are Lena Hartzell, flutist; Mary Louise Spangler, pianist; Sara Spangler, vocalist; Elmer Smith, vocalist, a cadet at Gettysburg college; William Black, vocalist, a student at Gettysburg college. Accompaniments will be played by Miss Mary Louise Spangler and Ross Forcey, a student at the college.

The ushers will be Mary Catherine Berger and Betty Lou Snyder.

The program follows: "Lindy Lou," Strickland, and "A Brown Bird Singing," Wood, William Black; "Reflections of the Water," Debussy, and "Malaguena," Lecuona, Mary Louise Spangler; "A Heart That's Free," Robyn, "A Birthday," Woodman, and "The Gypsy and the Bird" (with flute obligato), Benedict, Sara Spangler; "The Little Shepherd," Debussy, and "The Wind," Bricciardi, Lena Hartzell; "The Desert Song," Romberg, and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," Youmans, Elmer Smith.

Mummasburg Bible School To Close

A special program, open to the public, will be held at the Mummasburg Union church this evening at 8 o'clock officially closing the Vacation Bible school. Sixty-four students have been in attendance at the sessions.

The Rev. A. A. Landis, Ephrata, is superintendent of the school and the Rev. W. N. Zabler, Gettysburg, is assistant superintendent and also a teacher.

Faculty members include Mrs. Mildred Musselman, Mrs. Coffman Shenk, Mrs. Landis, Mrs. Forrest Kanagy and Mrs. Samuel Denlinger. Miss Miriam Keeney and Miss Esther Musselman have been serving as assistant teachers.

Two Pay Fines In Blackout Cases

Two of the three persons charged Tuesday with violating the civilian defense regulations by allowing lights to burn in their establishments during the blackout early Tuesday morning have pleaded guilty to the charges and paid fines of $5 and costs.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff paid the fine and costs on a charge of having a light burning in the rear part of his home on Springs avenue while Nicholas Meligakes paid on a charge of allowing a light to burn at the Plaza-Sweetland. Ernest Kranias was the third man charged.

All of the charges were laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore by Chief of Police Glenn Guise following the test. The charges were filed at direction of the Gettysburg Council of Defense.

PLAN SPECIAL REGISTRATION OF VOTERS HERE

In response to requests from several sections of the county for special arrangements for the registration of voters before Primary election day, September 14, the Adams county commissioners at their weekly session, Wednesday, arranged for special registration days in 14 county towns during August.

The special registration dates run from August 2 to August 14, the last day for registering before the fall primaries. Registration also may be handled during regular hours at the commissioners' office in the court house up to this date.

The special registration work will be handled by the regular clerks in the county office, Clarence C. Smith and Ray J. Snyder, so that no extra help will have to be employed.

List of Dates

The special registration schedule provides for the listing of voters between 7 and 10 p. m. on the following dates at the places indicated:

1. Littlestown engine house, August 2.
2. Arendtsville engine house, August 3.
3. Bendersville engine house, August 4.
4. New Oxford engine house, August 5.
5. Biglerville engine house, August 6.
6. Fairfield voting place, August 4.
7. York Springs engine house, August 13.
8. Two Taverns school house, August 2.
9. Cashtown engine house, August 12.
10. McSherrytown engine house, August 4.
11. East Berlin engine house, August 9.
12. Abbotstown engine house, August 11.
13. Bonneville engine house, August 13.
14. Gettysburg court house, August 7 and 14.

Hospital Report

Sandra Wolff, Gettysburg, submitted to an operation at the Warner hospital Wednesday for the removal of her tonsils.

Patients admitted to the Warner hospital included: Lloyd McLaughlin, Gettysburg, and Mrs. Darryl Travis, Gettysburg.

Patients discharged from the Warner hospital included Dorothy Little, Gettysburg; Mrs. John Bircher and infant daughter, Blanche Irene, Gettysburg; Mrs. Bernice Staley, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Robert Rose, Gettysburg; Mrs. Raymond Goodermuth, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. William E. Woodward, Gettysburg; Mrs. Martin Redding, Gettysburg; Mrs. George D. Basehore, Littlestown; Mrs. Frank Kepner and infant daughter, Darlene Francis, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. Charles Bolinger and infant son, Charles Terry, Jr., Gettysburg.

Mrs. Ellen Martin, Gettysburg, was admitted to the Warner hospital.

Patients discharged from the Warner hospital included Mrs. H. Tyrus Bartley and infant daughter, Susan Lynn, Gettysburg; Mrs. Clarence Williams and infant, Gettysburg; Frances McLaughlin, Gettysburg, and Rodney Steimour, Gettysburg R. D.

H. M. Hartman, Jr., Is Made Captain

Henry M. Hartman, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hartman, Gettysburg, has been promoted to the rank of captain. He is home on a 20-day furlough before reporting for duty at Fort McClellan, Alabama. Mrs. Hartman accompanied him to Gettysburg.

A graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1938, Captain Hartman has been on duty at various Caribbean bases for the last two and a half years. He is attached to the infantry.

TO WED SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Helen Schalline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schalline, near New Oxford, and Francis Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, near McSherrytown, will be solemnized on Saturday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church, New Oxford. The ceremony will be performed at a nuptial high mass at 7:30 a. m. by the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett.

DIRECTORS DROP ANNUAL PICNIC AND CONVENTION

Because of rationing and the shortage of gasoline, the Adams county School Board, Tuesday evening, discontinued the annual summer convention of the school directors of the county until victory. Plans had previously been made to hold the yearly session in the form of an outdoor meeting at the South Mountain fair grounds in August.

The board learned that Senate bill 34, designed to allow school boards great leeway in meeting the emergency need for farm help by holding longer daily sessions and counting them as a day and a part of a day or by closing schools entirely and counting the closed sessions as days taught had been passed by the state legislature and signed into law by the governor. The bill also provides easier issuance of work certificates to youngsters over 14 and provides for acceptance of medical certificates of ability to work from family doctors.

Review New Laws

In a lengthy discussion of various bills passed by the legislature and signed or vetoed by the governor, the board learned that a law increasing from $100 to $500 the amount a school board can spend before seeking approval from the state department had been passed; that bills for securing substitute teachers for war time teaching without having them come under tenure and allowing issuance of emergency certificates had been passed, and that a bill which would have crippled Arendtsville vocational school and similar schools throughout the state by withdrawing state financial support had been vetoed.

Another bill vetoed provided that schools which did not have commercial departments must pay the tuition to another school having such courses if a student wished to study the commercial subjects.

The county board voted $15 to the secretary, Miss Ruby E. Kane, for work done by her for the county board during the present year and approved budgets for the school year 1943-44 for Arendtsville Vocational school, Arendtsville borough, Mt. Joy and Mt. Pleasant townships.

Recommendation was made to all district and borough school boards that they should pay all teachers for the school year 1942-43 in full before July 1.

Special Session

If the teachers are not paid in full before that time, it was pointed out, the withholding tax will be imposed on the salaries. Otherwise the withholding tax will apply only to next year's salaries, the board said.

The board spent some time on study of a classification of the various school districts to be held next Wednesday at the office of county superintendent of schools, J. Floyd Slaybaugh, to finish up business for the current school year scheduled to end the first Monday in July.

President Raymond M. Baugher presided with directors Luther E. Jacobs, Zeal R. Peters, Clarence J. Wraybright and Chester B. Worley, County Superintendent Slaybaugh and the county agricultural education advisor, Richard C. Lighter, present.

FORMAL DANCE ON SATURDAY

The first formal dance by the Adams county USO honoring the cadets of the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college will be held Saturday evening at the college gym.

Guests also will include the officers of the local detachment and cadets and officers from the Navy training unit at Mount St. Mary's college and visiting service men and women of Adams county. Hours for the dance are 8:30 to 11:45 p. m. with music to be furnished by Bill Jones' orchestra.

Special Entertainment
Young women of Gettysburg and Adams county again will serve as hostesses for the dance.

Miss Elizabeth Starnor of Bendersville, a student member of the faculty at Penn Hall, Chambersburg, will entertain with vocal numbers during intermission at the dance. Her accompanist will be Mrs. S. F. Snyder.

Arrangements for the dance are being made by a sponsoring group of members of the Soroptimist club of Gettysburg. That group also will serve refreshments. The sponsors include: Mary Berger, chairman; LaRue Ridinger, Ann Mumper, Mae Keet, Rita Knox, Floranna Fowler, Florence Basehore, Ellen Buehler, Eleanor Griest, Margaret Bream, Mary Ramer, Treva Ziegler, Eva Pape, Henrietta Blocher and Elizabeth Hennig.

Assisting the Soroptimists will be a group of members of the local unit of the National Council of Catholic Women, headed by Miss Catherine Jacobs, sponsors of the next USO dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boyd, Gettysburg R. 2, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Smith, Straban township, announce the birth of a son Thursday morning. This is their third child.

Gets Commission As 2nd Lieutenant

Robert M. Eldon, Biglerville, was graduated Wednesday from the Engineer Officer Candidate School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and was commissioned as a second lieutenant.

Lt. Eldon entered the service on June 1, 1942. He is a graduate of Biglerville high school and attended Gettysburg college. Prior to entering the service he was employed as a surveyor at Rochester, New York.

MISS EBERHART REELECTED TO DIOCESAN POST

Miss Mary Eberhart, Gettysburg, was re-elected secretary of the Harrisburg Diocesan council of the National Council of Catholic Women at sessions held Wednesday at Harrisburg.

Mrs. Frank Borries, New Oxford, president of the Conewago Deanery council of the NCCW, was selected as the diocesan treasurer. Mrs. Paul Sullivan, Mt. Carmel, was elected president of the diocesan group.

Named council vice presidents and deanery presidents were Mrs. Borries, Miss Catherine Yeager, Carlisle; Miss Mae Kline, Lancaster; Mrs. Robert Glass, Sunbury; Mrs. August Neiman, Mt. Carmel; Miss Ramona Marietta, Shamokin; Mrs. Fred Yestadt, Harrisburg; Mrs. Stella Adams, Lebanon; Mrs. James Prantz, York and Mrs. Vincent Principe, Steelton.

The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, urged Catholic women to take aggressive leadership in the fight against wartime juvenile delinquency in an address at the Council sessions.

The election and address took place at the annual executive board meeting and luncheon. The usual two-day convention was dispensed with due to current travel restrictions.

Anniversary Gift

In commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Diocese of Harrisburg, the council presented Bishop Leech with a check for $3,500. This contribution was collected throughout the 10 deaneries of the diocese and to carry on welfare work.

The committee of the National Catholic Community Service, a branch of the USO, reported the donation of $1,571 to the centers in the Harrisburg-Lebanon district for the entertainment of the men in service and women in industry as well as for vestments and altar supplies for Army chaplains.

The Council contributed $250 for the maintenance of the National Catholic school of Social Service in Washington. Plans for next year include in addition to "intensive war work," a war stamp drive.

YOUTH IS HURT SERIOUSLY IN FALL FROM CAR

Gerald Snyder, 16, Biglerville R. D., is in a serious condition in the Warner hospital today with a fracture of the skull, suffered Friday evening when he fell from a rear bumper or fender of a car operated by R. S. Wickline, 19, Biglerville R. D., on the Arendtsville-Mummasburg road.

Snyder was conscious only at times. In addition to the head injury he suffered from abrasions and brush burns of the body.

State police here investigated and filed a charge against the driver before Justice of the Peace Floyd N. Hartman, Cashtown, accusing him of violating a section of the state motor code which prohibits passengers from "hanging on" to any section of an automobile while it is in motion. It restricts riders in a passenger car to use of the seats.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

VANITY

I never understand just why
A vain man sets himself apart
And takes his judgment from the eye
Instead of from the heart.
Though broadcloth may be fine to see
And always pleasing to possess,
No kinder tailored men can be Than those compelled to poorer dress.
The workman stained with dust and oil,
More useful to the world, I hold,
Than some who look with scorn on toil
And have inherited their gold.

I welcome him, who'er he be,
And will unto my journey's end,
Who stretches out his hand to me
And hopes to be my friend.

LILACS

I don't know much about it. As a youngster I was told Beyond the peary gateway all the streets are paved with gold.
Now, I fancy, they were trying to convince a growing boy That Heaven is filled with beauty and a place we'll all enjoy.
But what I hope to find there is a more exquisite thing;
I wonder up in Heaven have they lilacs in the spring?

This life is full of trouble and the skies are often gray.
There's much of care to fret us that we'd like to put away.
There is ugliness about us; there are tasks we dread to do,
But there still is much that's lovely for the eyes of men to view.
And I'd hate to think of leaving it to this I didn't cling:
The faith that up in Heaven there'd be lilacs in the spring.

Of all the bits of splendor which the springtime has displayed,
The mother thought the lilacs were the loveliest God had made,
And I know she'd not be happy or content with streets of gold Or chrysoprase or onyx or a crown of metals cold.
And she wouldn't call it Heaven, though she heard the angels sing,
If it lacked the simple beauty of the lilacs in the spring.

THE AGE QUESTION

Said Crankmire as we chatted: "I am sixty-one or three,
I never have been certain of my birthday, as you see.
There's a cousin says I'm older;
there's an aunt who says I'm not;
She insists to give me welcome she was right upon the spot.
There's an uncle who knows better,
and a sister with a book
Which will prove beyond all cavil
I am older than I look.

"There's a friend of ours who's known us since eighteen ninety-three;
She's very sure about my age; she went to school with me!
She vows I'm under sixty, but the others make it known She cuts my age a little that she may reduce her own.
There's a dear, devoted neighbor who my birth date can provide.
'He was born,' says he, 'the evening of the day my uncle died.'

"It's a family discussion which goes on and on and on,
That they'll ever reach agreement
hope is absolutely gone, Since my mother wasn't certain, and my father couldn't say,
And a fire destroyed the records,
and the parson moved away.
If my age should be important, as to some it seems to be, Take your choice from those who know it—sixty-one or two or three."

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE

A master's report recommending a divorce on a charge of desertion was filed at the court house by the master, Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., in the divorce action of Martha Ellen Peppie, Gettysburg, versus Clair F. Peppie.

Flashes Of Life

DEATH RATTLE

Bisbee, Ariz. (AP)—"Totojo is dead" screams a headline over a news item in this week's issue of the Buffalo, official publication of the 92nd division stationed at Huachuca.

Instead of the notorious Japanese, the deceased turns out to be a former pet of the 92nd's special services section.
It was a rattlesnake.

DRUMMING UP BUSINESS

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—A freight train pulled out of the yards with this crew:

V. A. Drumb, engineer; V. A.
Crumb, Jr., fireman; R. L. Drumb, conductor and twins, Leo and Elmo Drumb, brakemen.

The engineer was the father of the fireman, the brother of the conductor and the uncle of the brakemen.

ITCHY SENTENCE

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—Louis Thieri, 19, convicted of stealing a wallet, asked that he not be sent to the county jail farm because—He's allergic to poison oak.

But he may as well start scratching. Judge William F. James sentenced him to spend the next nine months there.

DOG WATCH

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP)—A shepherd dog has remained beside an equestrian statue for two days and nights.

Frequently he walks out into the street, gazes up at the statue of William S. Palmer, founder of Colorado Springs, and whines.

No one knows what the dog is waiting for.

NICE DOGGIE

Morganton, N. C. (AP)—Vernon
T. Garrison saw his fox terrier trotting home with something in his mouth—then garrison blinked and stared.

It was a dollar bill.

INTERNAL STRIFE

Baker, Ore. (AP)—PFC. John Larson, Silver Star winner, is alarmed.

Conspiring in Washington's Walter Reed hospital, he wrote a friend this awful thought about blood plasma:

"What if I have inside me the blood of a Giant fan and a Dodge supporter!"

Philadelphia (AP)—The "surprise" 10-year old Danton Jacobson planned for his parents was a dinner, cooked all by himself.
He surprised them, all right.
Returning from a half-hour visit with friends, they found the stove, windows and dishes shattered.

Danton, dazed but unarmed, admitted he might have waited too long to light the stove after turning on the gas.

SNAG SWAG

Burbank, Cal. (AP)—He may have to run, but his socks won't.
A burglar broke into the storeroom of a theater managed by Seth D. Perkins.

Only thing missing was $60 worth of run preventive—the stuff girls daub on when they snag their hose.

NEEDLESS DELAY

Chambersburg, Pa. (AP)— Thieves opened the safe of a bottling plant the hard way, by battering off the knob.

They needn't have bothered, though. The combination was pasted on the door.

YEP? IT WAS A HORSE

Billings, Mont. (AP)—Oscar Bjorgum's tree-climbing horse is back to earth again.

It took the fire department, a block and tackle, and three hours' work to do it.
Bjorgum said the animal was frightened, tried to jump through a high fork in a cottonwood tree and got stuck. None aboard.

WHO??

San Francisco (AP)—Attendants at Central Emergency hospital must have looked a bit blank when Lolita and Loretta Scandif identical 14-months-old twins, arrived.

Their mother said one of them had eaten some poisonous paste—but which one? Neither looked unhappy.

A tract of the poison finally was found on Loretta's lips and treatment followed.

DAY OFF

Chandler, Okla. (AP)—Carl L.
Wright, Jr., missed his timing by one day.

He will be sworn into the Army today at the age of 19 years, 4 months, 12 days.

Twenty-six years ago yesterday his father was sworn into the Army at the age of 19 years, 4 months, 11 days.

PROHIBITIVE PRICES

Logansport, Ind. (AP)—A sign in a Logansport barber shop announces "shaves $1" because explained owner Pat Branigan, "I just don't like to shave people."

He said he likes only to cut hair, so he put up the sign to discourage bewiskered customers. In the three months that the sign has been in the window only two customers have insisted upon shaves regardless of the cost, Branigan said.

Miss Waltemyer Joins The WAVES

Miss Miriam Waltemyer, who for eight years has been head of the Latin department at Gettysburg high school, was sworn in as a member of the WAVES in Philadelphia today. She will report at the Mid-shipman Training school at Smith college, Massachusetts, July 3, for a period of training as an officer candidate.

Miss Waltemyer was graduated from Central high school, Washington, D. C., and from Gettysburg college class of 1933. She received a master's degree from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville in 1939. She taught in the high school of Hallam, York county, for two years before joining the faculty of the local high school.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

You don't know how much it means to the Adams County boys of the 214th Quartermaster corps now maneuvering "Somewhere in Tennessee" to receive the service men's edition of the Gettysburg Times. We enjoy it immensely and thank you very much for it.

So far during our tour through the southern part of the United States we find it to be a well-known fact that Tennessee is the only southern state that reminds us most of Pennsylvania.

We, being in the blue army, are about to engage in a terrific, simulated struggle against the red army. The blue army so far has won the first two phases of maneuvers.

The third phase which will soon begin, the 214th Quartermaster corps will then go into action with the blue. This will be the first maneuvers for the 214th and we will help to win the third phase for the blue army.

Our company is composed of men from every part of Pennsylvania.
They, like you, want this war to come to an end as soon as possible.
We, as Pennsylvanians, will do our best to bring freedom, happiness and security to every American.

Sincerely,
PFC WILLIAM A. WEIKERT,
PFC MORRIS M. STEINOUR,
PVT. DONALD CARVER,
Co. C, 214th Am. Gas Supply,
APO 402, C-O postmaster, Nashville, Tennessee.

Dear Sirs:

I will take the pleasure in writing you a few lines to tell you how much I enjoy reading The Gettysburg Times.

Through your paper I have learned where many of my friends are stationed and also know how things are going around home. It sure is a great paper for all service men and women.

I wish to thank all of you who make this paper possible for those in the armed forces.

BRIDGE REPAIRED

The county commissioner's office Monday announced that the Lott bridge over Rock creek joining Cumberland township and Mt. Joy township has been completely repaired and is now open for use.

The bridge, along the road leading from the Taneytown road to the Baltimore pike, was damaged during the recent flash floods. The 100-foot bridge is constructed of steel and has a wooden floor.

HERE AND THERE

CARRIERS

Carrier boys and girls of The Gettysburg Times have boosted their daily newspaper into seventh place in the state's standing of 89 newspapers sponsoring the sale of War Stamps, an official announcement from the U. S. Treasury Department revealed Monday.

Regardless of the size of the community, its population and the population of the trading area The Gettysburg Times' carriers have placed their newspaper in seventh position.

Only Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Lancaster, Harrisburg and Indiana newspaper carriers have sold more war stamps than the carriers of The Gettysburg Times. But carriers of those papers are naturally expected to be in the upper bracket because of the large population in their working areas. Hence, their achievement is not comparable with that of the Gettysburg carriers.

Carriers of a Harrisburg newspaper, for instance, sold only 1,713 more war stamps than did the carriers of The Gettysburg Times. But Harrisburg has a population well in excess of 80,- 000 and Gettysburg's population is less than 6,000.

The Treasury Department's figures include sales up to May 1 and show Gettysburg Times carriers credited with selling 2,358,581 stamps.

Carriers of a Philadelphia paper, where the carrier-boy stamp-selling idea originated, top the state with 29,343,168 stamps. But, again, the element of population enters into the picture. Philadelphia has a population approaching the two million mark, more than 200 times the population of Gettysburg... and the Philadelphia carriers sold a little more than ten times the number of stamps
the Gettysburg carriers did.

Another achievement earned by The Times' carriers is that they rank 52nd in sales in the country. 925 newspapers in the United States have undertaken to help finance the war by having their carriers sell war stamps. Gettysburg is included in that number and as of May 1 Gettysburg Times carriers are in 52nd place in total sales.

"General J. B. Carr, of the Union Army, stopped to issue a warning to whoever was in the house to flee to safety. Josephine Miller ignored the warning
to wait until the batch of bread
in the oven was done. Then she noticed how hungry the men looked so she decided to stay on and bake bread until her supplies were exhausted. She baked batch after batch—handling out the bread to soldiers regardless of the uniform they wore. She not only fed them but tied up their wounds. Eventually she died.

"Okay, but give me a cigar ticket."

A local soldier, home on leave, tells this story about William A.
"Andy" Weikert, Gettysburg, who is a member of the same Company.

Helmets that soldiers wear are supposed to be so tough that a blow with the butt end of a rifle will not affect the wearer provided he is wearing the heavy leather lining that serves as a shock-absorber.

"Well, 'Andy' was taking a snooze one day while the outfit, on maneuvers, was resting for a brief spell. He was wearing his helmet but had neglected to put on the leather lining. One of his buddies, thinking that Andy was well protected, slammed him on the helmet with the butt end of his rifle. 'Andy' was knocked cold and it took several minutes and a couple buckets of water to bring him to.

On another occasion 'Andy' overslept and instead of calling the cooks at 5 a. m. it was 6:30 before he roused from his slumber. It is not known what happened to him when he was called to the "skippers' office.

The State Department of Commerce includes the following Gettysburg story in its current release:

"The coming anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg brings to attention a little-known story of a Pennsylvania woman who 'stayed at her post.'

"She was 18-year-old Josephine Miller, who lived in a little one-story house along the Emmitsburg road. During the battle a steady column of smoke continued to pour from the chimney of her house and now and then snatches of a song drifted through the open windows to the ears of soldiers marching past.

"General J. B. Carr, of the Union Army, stopped to issue a warning to whoever was in the house to flee to safety. Josephine Miller ignored the warning
to wait until the batch of bread
in the oven was done. Then she noticed how hungry the
men looked so she decided to stay on and bake bread until her supplies were exhausted. She baked batch after batch—handling out the bread to soldiers regardless of the uniform they wore. She not only fed them but tied up their wounds. Eventually she died.

enteen bodies were removed

WILL REGISTER FARM HELPERS TO MEET NEED

Eighteen volunteer registrars have been selected in communities of Adams county to register workers who will be able to assist with the cherry crop harvest, Herbert W. Miller, farm labor assistant, has announced.

"With the cherry picking season rapidly approaching it is very important that scores of helpers are needed to harvest the crops," Mr. Miller said.

"Although a number of people have already indicated their intentions of helping with cherry picking it is evident that at least 500 additional pickers are needed.

"Cherries are a perishable crop that must be harvested within a short period of time."

18 Registration Points

Because of inability of some persons who would like to be pickers to come to the Emergency Farm Labor office in Gettysburg, the following local registrars have been selected,
Mr. Miller said:

Littletown, Paul E. King; Mc-Sherrytown, P. V. Topper; Abbottstown, H. S. Reigle; East Berlin, E.
M. Gruver; New Oxford, J. L. Klatzert; Hampton, Mrs. D. B. March;
New Chester, Edwin Snyder; York
Springs, W. S. Grove; Bendersville, Cecil Snyder; Gardners, Grover
Myers; Aspers, Clyde Plank; Bigl-erville, Kenneth Alwine; Arendtsville, Charles Smith; McKnightstown,
A. C. Keefe; Cashtown, R. D.
Bream; Orrtanna, Howard Mussel-man; Hanover, Robert A. Bagshaw; Fairfield, Robert Bartin.

Persons wishing to help with the cherry crop can turn in their names to any of the registrars or the Farm Labor office and will then be notified as to where he is to work and means of getting to the work.

MARIAN SHEELY IS MARRIED TO J. H. ALLISON

Miss Marian L. Sheely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sheely, Springs avenue, and James H. Allison, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Allison, Mt. Carmel were married at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Allison, assisted by the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, the bride's pastor.

Mrs. Carrie Pretz presented an organ prelude. Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, sister-in-law of the bride sang several solos.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white marquisette over satin, fashioned on princess lines with a gathered bodice. The bride's veil of tulle illusion ended in a long train. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and baby breath.

List Attendants
Mrs. Spurgeon A. Messner, of Gettysburg, was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Granville R. Schultz, of Gettysburg, and Miss Margaret Allison, of Mt. Carmel, sister of the bridegroom.

Charles Gay, Coatesville, was best man. The ushers were Barkley Beldeman, Hanover, and J. Grant Kehler, Mt. Carmel.

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Gettysburg high school and from Gettysburg college in the class of 1940. She is employed in a secretarial position with the C. H. Musselman company at Biglerville.

Mr. Allison was graduated from Mt. Carmel high school and Gettysburg college and is now a member of the junior class at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School at Philadelphia.

The couple left for a week's wedding trip.

Weddings

Stuffle—Schue

Miss Grace Schue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Schue, Littlestown R. 1, and John Stuffle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stuffle, Westminster, Maryland, R. 1, were united in marriage at the United Brethren parsonage at Taneytown, Maryland, June 12 by the Rev. A. W. Garvin. The bride wore a poudre blue dress trimmed in lace with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Stuffle is a graduate of the Littlestown high school class of 1941. Mr. Stuffle is employed by A. W. Feaser. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride for the immediate families.

Walker, also of Rutherford, were united in marriage May 28 by the Rev. Holloway, pastor of the Rutherford Presbyterian church. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Kathryn Blocher, Bendersville.

Gunnert—Myers

Miss Beulah M. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, East Berlin, became the bride of Dr. Oren W. Gunnert, Codorus, son of Paul Gunnert, Bair, at 3 o'clock Sunday, June 13, at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of members of the two families. The Rev. Paul Gladtter, former minister of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, officiated.

Miss Nancy Gunnert, young daughter of the groom, was the bride's only attendant.

The bride is a graduate of the East Berlin high school, Millersville State Teachers' college and holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Pittsburgh. She has been a teacher in the public schools in Reading township, York Springs, Johnstown and Harrisburg.

Schaffer—Gruber

Miss Ethel May Gruber and Roy P. Schaffer, both of East Berlin, were married Saturday at the Grace Lutheran parsonage, Westminster, Md. The ring ceremony of the church was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Elwood S. Falkenstein. The couple was unattended.

Staub—Wagamon

Michael A. Staub, West High street, New Oxford, and Hazel G. Wagamon, Hanover, were united in

"Horse And Carriage" Conveyance, First Here In Thirty Years, Grooms Newlyweds After Nuptials

Gettysburg's first "horse and carriage" wedding in three decades or more took place Saturday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. James H. Allison used a 50-year-old surrey to ride from St. James Lutheran church to the bride's residence on Springs avenue after their marriage ceremony.

The groom is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Allison, of Mt. Carmel, formerly of New Oxford.

Members of the wedding party followed in a three-seated light spring wagon that got away from the church after a five-minute delay caused by a "balky horse."

Some of the guests and members of the wedding party were "in" on the surprise but Mr. Allison, his bride, the former Miss Marian L. Sheely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sheely, and a large number of the guests were unprepared for the sight of the two horse-drawn, be-ribboned carriages drawn up at the front of the church after the ceremony.

The bride and groom took their places in the back seat of the covered surrey with its top edged with fringe and tassels and bright ribbons streaming out behind. With LeRoy H. Winebrenner, owner of the horses and carriages, holding the lines, the couple started off but soon had to stop until Dr. John B. Zinn, of Gettysburg, who was driving the wagon bearing the wedding party could get his steed in motion.

marriage at St. John's church, Westminster, Md., on Saturday, June 12.

Clark—Stump

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Stump, Hanover, and John Sterling Clark, New Oxford R. D. 1, were married Saturday, June 12, in the rectory of St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Mark P. McElwee. They were attended by Charles Clark, Jr., and Harold Groff. The bride was attired in a blue dress with white accessories.

The couple is residing at the home of the bride.

Hoffman—Weigard

Miss Rita Jean Weigard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weigard, Dover R. D., and PFC Richard E. Hoffman, son of John and Katie Hoffman, late of East Berlin, were married in Zwungil Reform church, East Berlin, at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard E. Shaffer.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Logan, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom. The bride wore a white street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. The matron of honor wore pink and white accessories and a corsage of mixed flowers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the wedding ceremony. The bride was graduated from the Dover high school in 1942. The bridegroom, a graduate of East Berlin high school in 1939, is stationed at Indiantown Gap.

Frazer—West

Miss Jeannette West, Cloverfield road, Progress, daughter of Charles West, Huntingdon, will become the bride of Staff Sgt. Edgar K. Frazer, II, of Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Frazer, of Wormleysburg, Monday afternoon, June 28, in Christ Lutheran church, Harrisburg.

Sgt. Frazer is a former Gettysburg college student.

Clark—Stump

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Stump, Hanover, and John Sterling Clark, New Oxford R. D. 1, were married June 12, in the rectory of St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Mark P. McElwee. They were attended by Charles Clark, Jr., and Harold Groff. The bride was attired in a blue dress with white accessories. The couple is residing at the home of the bride.

Neiderer—Staub

Miss Beatrice M. Staub, daughter of Mrs. Cora Staub, Hanover, and S. Sgt. Francis J. Neiderer, stationed at Bowman Field, Louisville, Ky., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Neiderer, Centennial, were married Monday morning at 8 o'clock at a nuptial mass in St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover. The double ring ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Mark P. McElwee. They were attended by Miss Mary E. Staub, sister of the bride, and Richard J. Neiderer, brother of the bridegroom. The bridegroom will return to camp June 29. The bride will reside at her home for the duration of the war.

Shue—Routson

Miss Mary E. Routson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Routson, Hanover, and Pvt. Ira S. Shue, son of Ira M. Shue, Hanover, were united in marriage Saturday evening in the parsonage of Carroll Reformed church, near Westminster, Md. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles B. Rebert. The bridegroom, who is stationed at Camp Van Dorn, Miss., is home on a short leave.

Long—Collins

Miss Marguerite K. Collins, daughter of Mrs. Claude Shildt, and PFC Robert W. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Long, all of Littlestown, were united in marriage Friday evening at 8 o'clock in St. John's rectory, Westminster, Md. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. William Kelly.

The attendants were Roger Collins, brother of the bride, and Miss Pauline Halter.

The bridegroom was graduated from Littlestown high school in 1936 and at present is on M. P. duty at Indiantown Gap. The bride graduated from Littlestown high school in 1941, is employed in the office of the Windsor Shoe company, Littlestown.

Bortner—Flickinger

Miss Emily G. Flickinger, daughter of Mrs. Mattie Flickinger, Littlestown R. D. 2, and Lester L. Bortner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bortner, Glenville, were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Utz, Silver Run, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William H. Neidhammer, pastor of the Holiness Christian church, Hanover. They were unattended.

Raber—Spangler

Miss Louanna M. Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Spangler, Littlestown, and Lester M. Raber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raber, Philadelphia, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Reformed church, Westminster. The single ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. J. Edmund Lippy, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the couple. They were attended by Cpl. LeRoy Raber, Camp Edwards, Mass., brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Ruby Miller, Hanover. The bride wore a white dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds and baby's breath. The maid of honor wore a pink dress, pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and baby's breath. The bridegroom is employed by the Windsor Shoe company, Inc., Littlestown. The couple will reside at the home of the bride's parents for the present.

Bowman—Goodman

The marriage of Miss Zora E. Goodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Goodman, Harrisburg, to Lieut. Henry K. Bowman, United States Marine Corps, Quantico, Virginia, son of Mrs. and Mrs. J. William Bowman, also of Harrisburg, took place Saturday night at the Penbrook Church of God. The Rev. William Hower, pastor, performed the ceremony.

Lt. Bowman is a graduate of Gettysburg college.

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Mary E. Beidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Beidler, of Quakertown, to Sergeant Harvey Pettit, of the air corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pettit, of Staten Island.

The ceremony took place Saturday, June 19, at the parsonage of a Baptist church at Jackson, Mississippi, where the bridegroom is now stationed. The Rev. Dr. Bell, pastor of the church, officiated using the double ring ceremony. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony.

While the wedding guests and curious by-standers looked on, all sorts of persuasion was used upon the immobile equine. Cars and buses crept by cautiously on the other side of the street as the animal occasionally backed and once threatened to upset his uneasy passengers. Finally, Mr. Winebrenner succeeded in getting the horse started and then ran ahead to resume his place in the surrey. As the surrey moved upstreet a large "Just Married" sign across its back explained to Saturday afternoon shoppers the strange sight.

The party went up Baltimore street for a visit to a photographer's studio before going to the Sheely residence for the reception. Some of the hundred or more guests drove to the reception and many walked but arrived in time to see the wedding party alight precariously as fractious horses made it difficult to find the small step at the carriage sides and threatened to snarl the long dresses of the women members of the party about whips or spokes of the ribboned wheels.

The couple started their wedding trip by bus to Harrisburg later in the evening.

The bride was graduated from the Quakertown high school in 1939 and from Bucknell university, Lewisburg, in January 1943. Upon graduation she accepted a position as teacher of mathematics and English in the Arendtsville vocational high school.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Bucknell university, class of 1942.

Hoke—Higbee

The marriage of Miss Mary Frances Higbee, daughter of Mrs. E. Lewis Higbee, of Emmitsburg, and Staff Sgt. Harold Milton Hoke, also of Emmitsburg, took place Friday, June 18 at 2 p. m., in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Evansville, Indiana. Dr. Matthew Cavell officiated.

HAY AND BARLEY CROPS GOOD IN ADAMS COUNTY

Adams county is producing its best hay crop in recent years and should have a good barley crop if present indications are born out by threshing, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

Farmers, who have their hay and barley harvests well underway are working nearly around the clock in order to get the work done on the farms despite the lack of labor, Hartman reported.

The countryside is dotted by lights long into the night as farmers work under searchlights in order to meet the demands for the nation for food which have caused an attempt to produce a greater yield than last year's bumper crop.

Winter Damage

The farmers who promised to produce up to 16 per cent more crops this year than last are for the most part finding the hay crop better. Both extremes of good and bad crops of hay and barley have been found in the county, Mr. Hartman said. Fields lying at higher levels have produced bumper crops of hay, with the many rains during May bringing out the top-notch yields.

On the other hand the severe winter weather followed by short periods of unseasonable heat have caused the loss of some of the county's hay and barley. In lower fields, especially, the ground heaved as a result of the cold and hot variations in the weather, throwing seed to the top where it died, the county agent said.

Threshing Season Here

Additional acreage devoted to grass and clover for hay also has helped in the production of the bumper crop. The dry weather the last few days has allowed drying of the hay in short order.

The barley looks promising, Mr. Hartman said, with excellent stands in most sections of the county. Many barley fields were ruined during the winter but where the crop came through the winter the stand is excellent. Farmers have been harvesting the last few days and some have started threshing. No reports had been received by the county agent up to this morning concerning the quality of the barley after the threshing.

18-Hour Days

The labor shortage is being filled somewhat by the greater employment of women and girls of the farm families although there has been little hiring of women to replace the farmer's traditional helper, the "hired hand," who for the most part has either been called to the armed forces or has abandoned the farm for war industries.

More women than ever before are seen this summer working in the fields with many of them driving tractors. Even late-at-night work when farmers plow or harrow by spotlights on the tractors is being done by women.

A number of farmers contacted over the week-end said they could use up to twice as much help as they have been able to obtain so far, with a number saying they would "welcome with open arms" vacationists who would like to work during their regular vacation.

Most of the farmers are working anywhere from 14 to 18 hours a day. One farmer's schedule started at 5 a. m. Saturday and ended at 12:30 a. m. Sunday. With other work finished by dark he started work on several fields by spotlight, using the tractor "until I just couldn't keep my eyes open any longer," he said.

JAP BEETLE IS SPREADING HERE

To prevent serious crop damage in the county, Farm Agent M. T. Hartman today issued a "call to battle" against the Japanese beetle.

"The Japanese beetle is established in a number of locations in Gettysburg, and the pests have begun to make their appearance. The first ones to emerge were noticed June 19 and since that time the beetles have been rapidly emerging from the ground. They have a ravenous appetite. Trees, plants, shrubs and lawns require protection from this devastating insect pest. Do not delay or wait until the plants are severely injured," the county agent said.

"Apply a protective spray if beetles are in your locality. The leaves of shade trees and shrubs that are attacked by the Japanese beetle can be protected by spraying with arsenate of lead to which is added a sticker such as wheat flour. The proportions of the materials to use in each gallon of water are: Lead arsenate, three tablespoonsful; wheat flour, two tablespoonsful. Spray the plants thoroughly with this solution.

"Where there is objection to using lead arsenate, it is suggested that three pounds of aluminum sulphate and 20 pounds of hydrated lime in 100 gallons be used. Hydrated lime at the rate of 20 pounds in 100 gallons of water will be helpful as a repellent spray, and is often used whenever other materials are not obtainable.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—The Red Cross activities for this community are under the direct supervision of Mrs. Harry Boyle, East Main street, as chairman, and work periods are held every Wednesday afternoon and Thursday evening in the recreation hall of the Lutheran parish house. Dr. and Mrs. Carson Frailey and William Frailey, of Washington, spent the week-end putting away crops at their farm at the edge of town.

FARM LABOR SHORTAGE IS GROWING ACUTE

"The farm labor situation in Adams county is growing more acute every day," County Agent M. T. Hartman declared today, "and a special appeal is made for each and every person to render every assistance possible.

"What can be done to help the emergency situation is the question that naturally presents itself. Farmers of Adams county are urged to anticipate their labor needs as far in advance as possible, and contact the Emergency Farm Labor office on Baltimore street. Anyone that is available for farm work, part time or full time, should register at the Farm Labor office," Hartman said.

"There are many types of farm work that require help, and one thing sure there is a job for everyone. At the present time haying and barley harvest are in full operation. Peach thinning is completed in some orchards, however, plenty of peach thinning still remains to be done.

Cherries in 10 Days

"Pea harvest is in full swing, and many county youths are doing their bit to help get the pea crop processed.

"Bean picking soon will be in order and many helpers are required as the acreage of beans has been expanded. Tomato acreage has been increased and plenty of tomato pickers will be required to harvest the tomato crop.

"The sour cherry crop is rapidly reaching maturity and picking cherries will get under way during the next 10 days.

Food Is Vital

"To the boys and girls of Adams county who can contribute so much toward helping with the harvesting of farm crops, it is suggested that they register at the Farm Labor office," the county agent emphasized.

The Emergency Farm Labor office is located next to the court house on Baltimore street in the Topper building. The telephone is Gettysburg 290.

"Food is important. Food is a vital necessity and we must realize that food doesn't just happen. It can't be taken for granted. Food has to be produced by work and planning and conserved by genius and care. Whether we are available as farm helpers or if we need farm help, we can cooperate by contacting the Farm Labor office," Hartman asserted.

WALKING EVIDENCE

York, Pa. (AP)—A woman was reported to Detective Nelson L. Shultz that one of her dresses had been stolen, when:

"My gosh, here it comes now!" she exclaimed.

A 15-year-old girl, strolling with a young man, admitted taking it because she "didn't have a thing to wear" on her date.

PAINT JOB FILED

Huntington, Ind. (AP)—The painting worries of the Huntington county sheriff, who had been patiently waiting for a contractor to get around to redecorating the jail, are over.

The contractor's painter, Wilfred G. Mygrants, is serving a ten-day sentence for drunken driving and the sheriff says he thinks Mygrants' can do the job in ten days.

YOU CAD, SIR!

Los Angeles (AP)—"You in my opinion are the worst bunch of crooks on the coast," said a postcard received yesterday by H. M. Katz, owner of a gold-buying agency.

The writer said one lot of supposed gold he'd obtained from the Katz agency, bearing a $90 price tag, was worth only $4.

"For reasons of my own I wish to remain anonymous," he added.

Katz and the police department explained: The man had stolen brass which Katz had substituted for gold, as a precaution, in his show window.

BENSON SPEAKS

Mr. Benson was presented to the group by Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, a member of the program committee. He used as his subject "Woman's Place in Home Defense."

100 GARAGEMEN AT AUTO CARE DEMONSTRATION

More than 100 local automobile dealers, repair shop proprietors and car owners attended a meeting on car safety and inspection Thursday evening at the highway department building along the Fairfield road. The meeting was one of a series of 36 to be held throughout the state under sponsorship of the state Department of Revenue to improve inspections and to keep transportation rolling until Victory.

J. William Kendeheart, Jr., local highway superintendent, acted as chairman for the meeting. H. J. Fritz, representing the Pennsylvania Automotive association, told of the general improvement in inspections over the last few years and emphasized the responsibility of inspection stations in the transportation maintenance program during the emergency. Fritz told the dealers that compulsory inspections are needed most at the present time because all types of cars are being used harder and there will be no new vehicles for some years.

Fritz urged garage owners to do everything in their power to get the cars in early so there will be no "ganging up" for inspections during the closing days of the present period which started May 1 and closes July 31.

Garagemen Praised

A demonstration on proper inspection procedure was presented by Pvt. G. E. Goodhart, a state police inspector. The demonstration was designed particularly for new mechanics employed by inspection stations to replace experienced men either called into the armed service or who are now employed in defense plants.

He complimented station operators in this vicinity on the inspections and pointed out that used cars owned by Pennsylvania operators are in much better condition than those traded by owners from adjoining states having no inspection laws.
